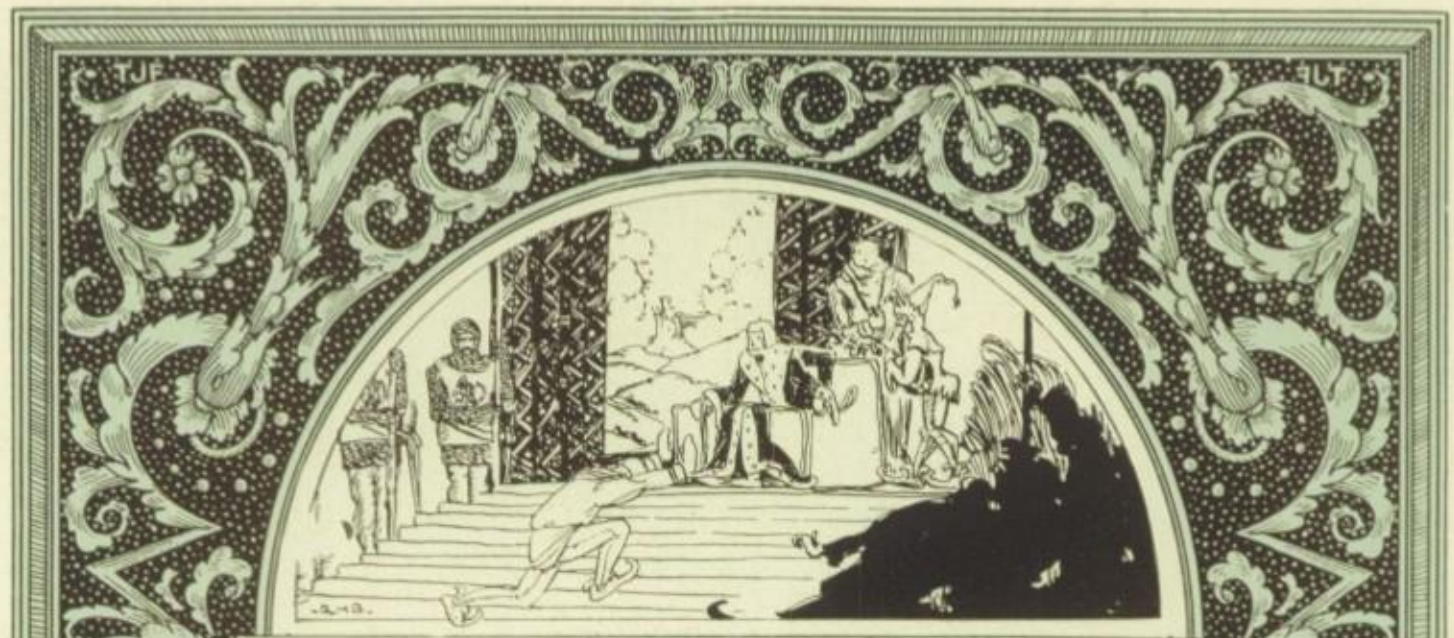
Foreword

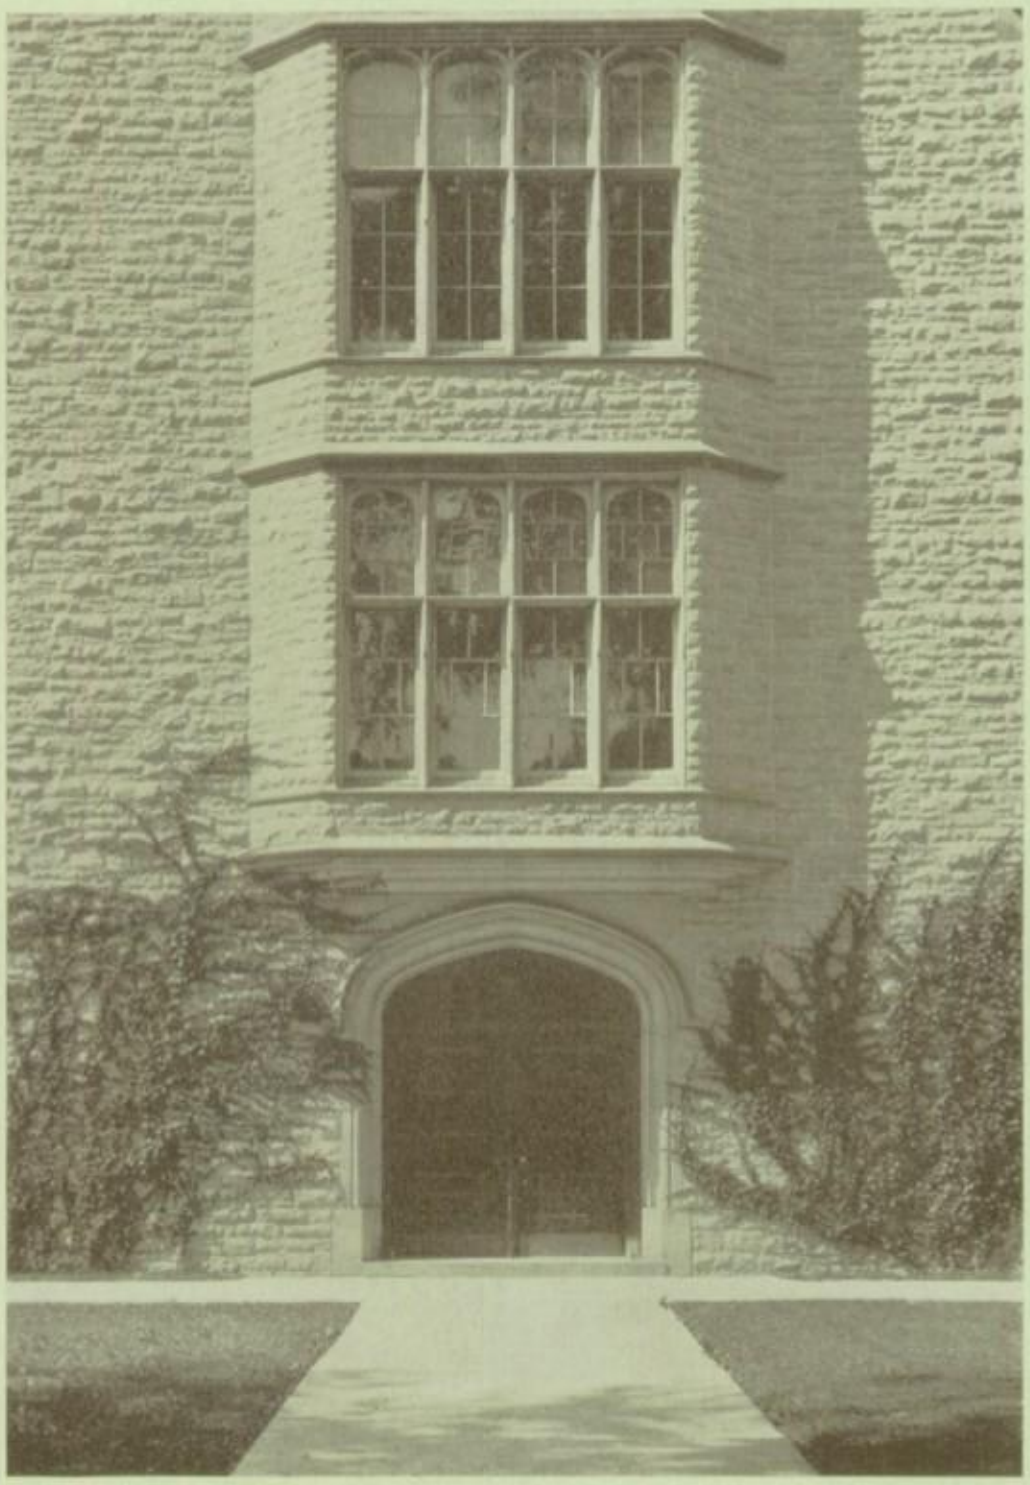
HERE is presented a review of the year--glorifying the devotion to your school and to your studies, beautifying the duties and responsibilities taught by your alma mater, and culminating your hopes, your ambitions, and your triumphs.

¶ May this yearbook be a true representation of your high school experiences.

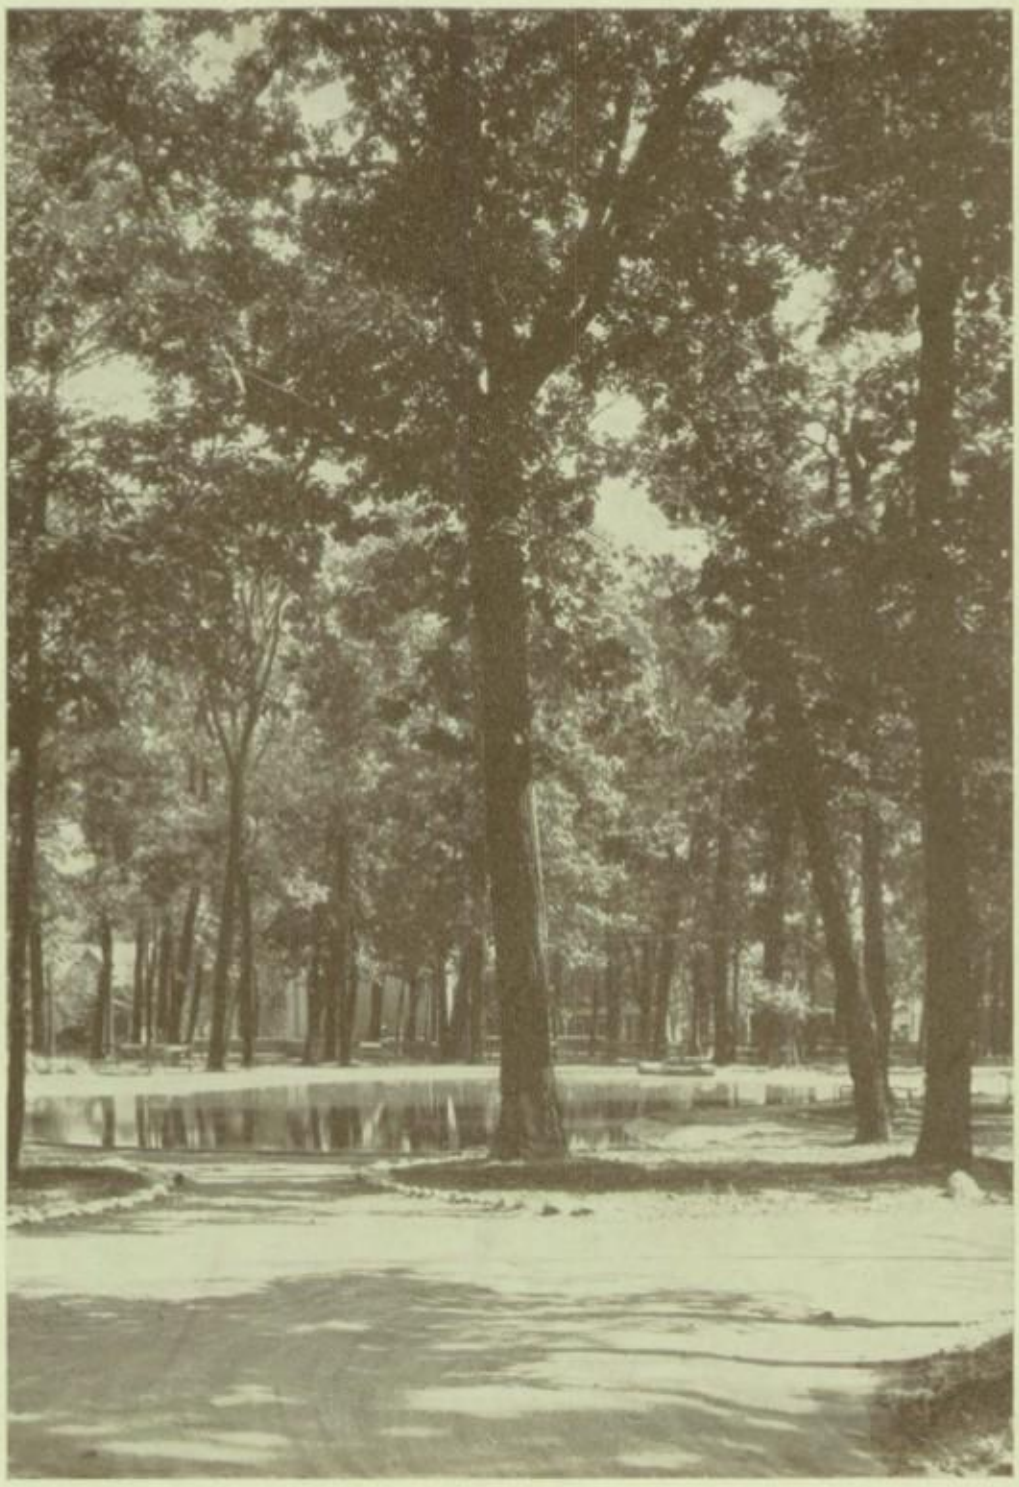
THRU his sympathetic interest in scholastic affairs and thru his deep understanding and good will toward all of us, he has made himself an important factor in the betterment of our school; therefore we, the senior class of the Fond du Lac Senior High School, dedicate to Mr. William J. Sizer, this the eighteenth volume of LIFE, our annual.



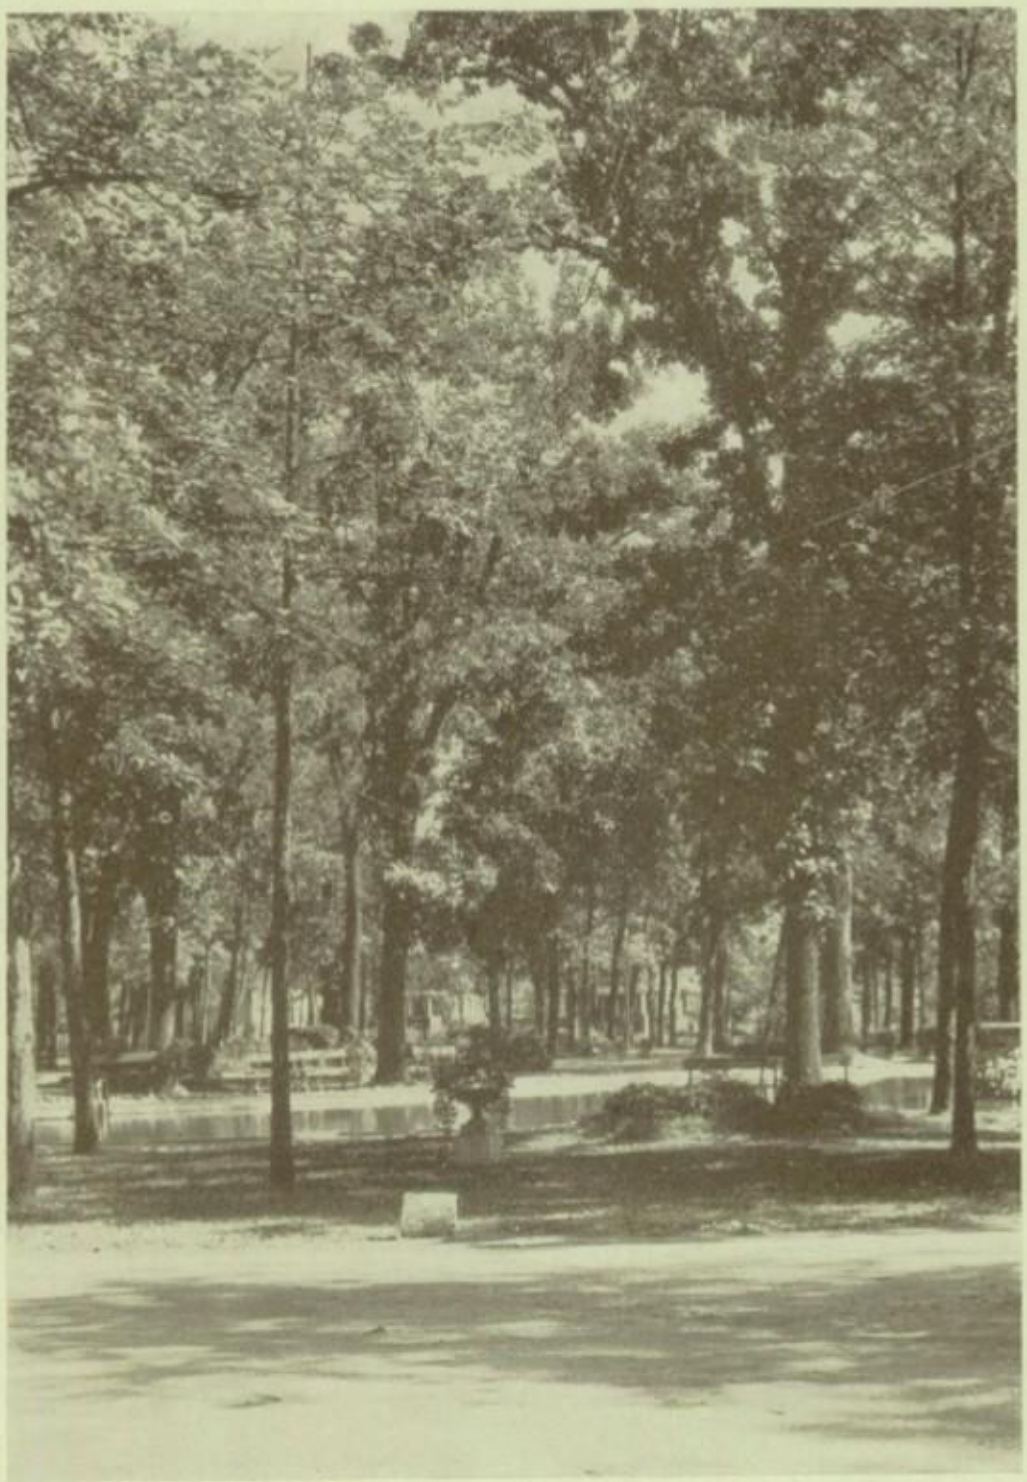
W. J. Sizer



"Its smiling windows and vineclad walls
Betoken a welcome and a promise."

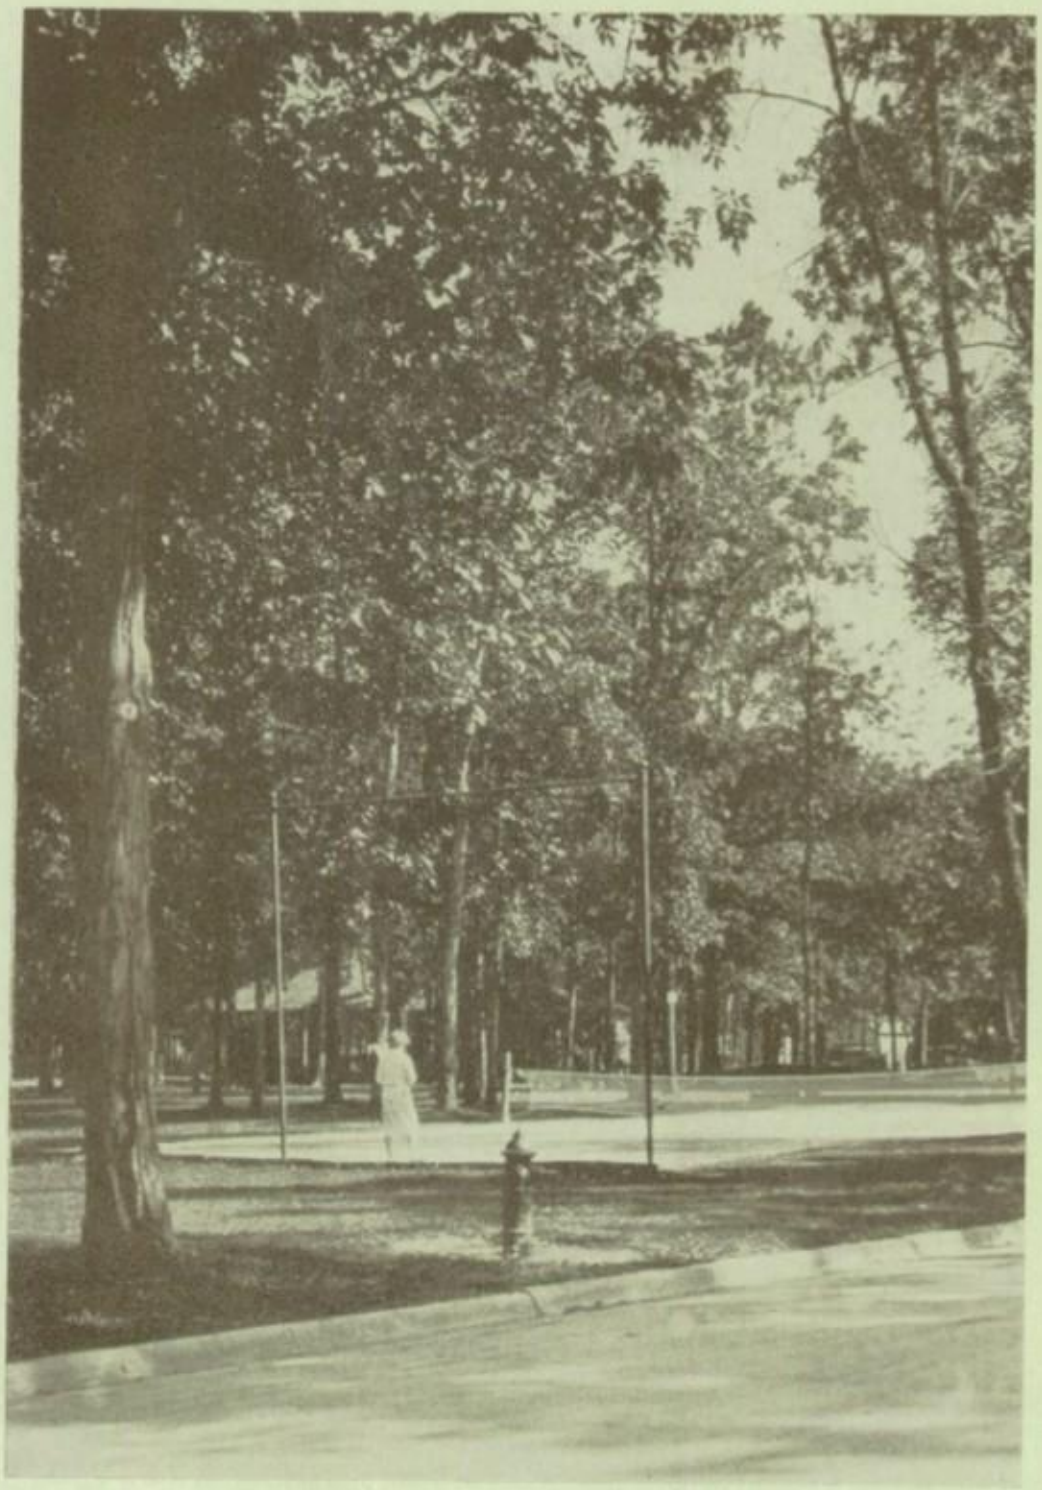


"The water--see how it mirrors the trees and the sunlight,
And shimmers as shyly as the veil of a nun."

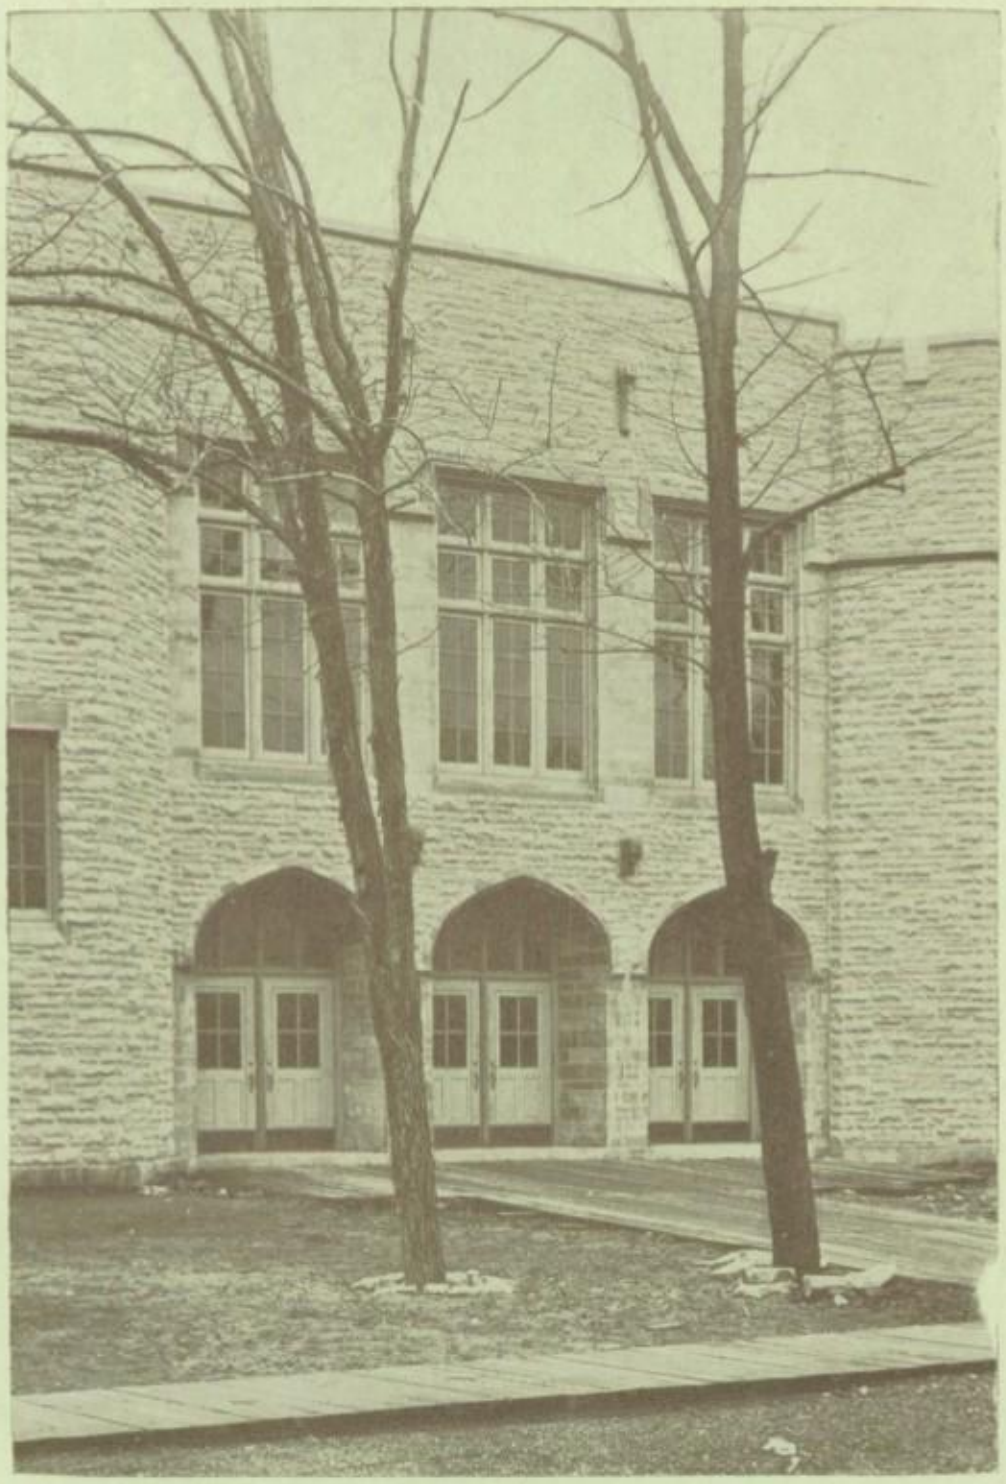


"A fairyland, decked with trees and fountains
And dotted with splashes of gold."

The ice-glazed wires and ermine-wrapt trees,
Are a silent memorial to the Goddess of Snow.



"Many years bring many changes,
And still the trees watch and wonder."



Soberness and formality
Blend becomingly with its utility.

Top Row: Mayor R. D. Haentze, H. G. Rosenow, Wm. Dyhr, S. D. Nichols, W. W. Hughes.

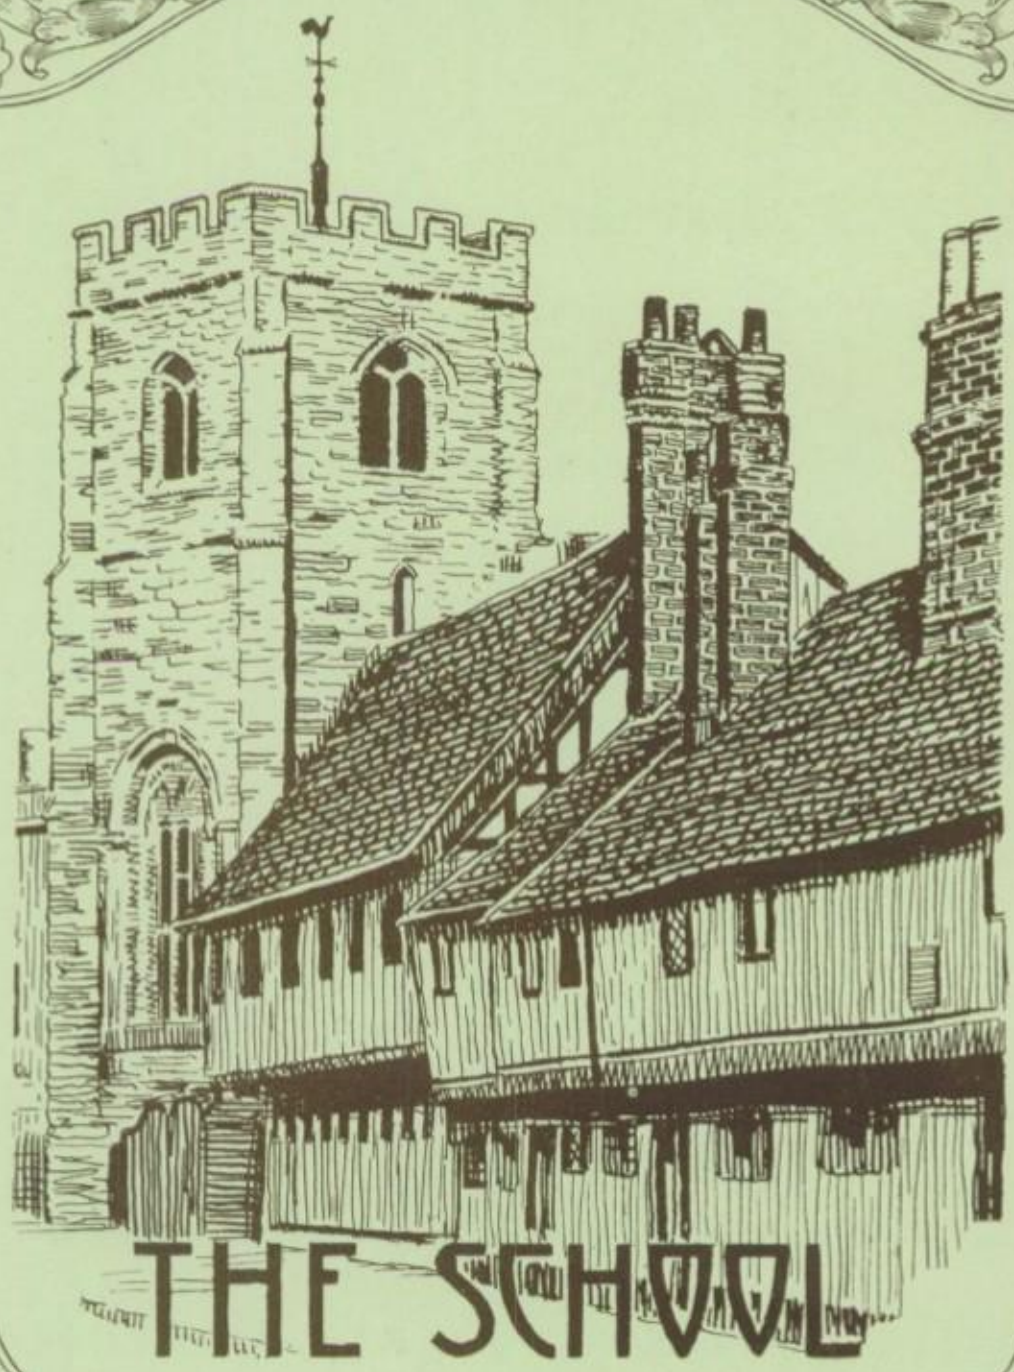
AMONG the well wishes and friends of the students of the Fond du Lac Senior High School, the Board of Education ranks high.

The efforts of the Board have resulted in an addition to the high school building, an addition which contains a cafeteria and gymnasium. Better school spirit has been felt this year because of the gymnasium which has made possible the holding of pep-meetings, matinee dances, class basket ball games, and class parties. The cafeteria, too, has proved a valuable factor in the school. Students who live any distance from school have found the cafeteria a great convenience.

The student body is truly appreciative of the splendid opportunities afforded it by the Board of Education.



THE SCHOOL

F

The School Toast

Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!
A song to thee we raise.
Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!
We lift our voice in praise.
A glorious life in thee we live,
Our grateful hearts to thee we give.
Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!

Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!
We raise our banner bright.
Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!
The symbol of the right.
We lift our voices loud and clear,
We sound thy praises far and near,
Oh Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!
Oh Fondy High!

Faculty

THE teacher holds a unique position in the work of the world. The success of a teacher can only be measured by the success of others. The failure of a teacher becomes apparent in the short-comings of others. The reward of a teacher is the knowledge that the world may be a little better and life a little finer because of his work.

There is no such thing as a typical teacher. Training, experience, knowledge, and appearance are factors of more or less importance. The true teacher may be young or old with years of experience or enthusiastically trying to make a good start. Loyalty, self sacrifice, and hard work combined with faith in youthful humanity are the attributes of real value in the profession.

Classes

TO you who are graduating seniors, the time spent in getting a high school education has undoubtedly been short and the task itself has been an easy one. When you entered a few years ago, however, all was vastly different. The task was difficult, and the time required was exceedingly long.

Regardless of your classification or year in high school, remember that, like the seniors, you will soon be completing your high school course. Although advancement and promotion come slowly, they come to all who persevere. Nothing in life that is worthwhile is gained without effort. Have the courage and the patience to master your work each day and you will soon know the feeling of satisfaction that comes with graduating from high school.

Senior Class History

FOR three years we have labored, plodded, sailed, or slid through high school until now with a treasure of pleasant memories behind us and hope and vision of a splendid future ahead, we prepare to leave the school which has figured so prominently in our daily life. As sophomores, we played our role admirably well. At first we formed a rather passive background to the more active juniors and seniors; soon we began to assert ourselves. Our school spirit was evidenced early by our interest in all organizations and athletics. The basketball games held at the old coliseum were never without their crowds of boisterous sophomores. Sophomore days were happy days. In retrospect it seems as though they were merely playtime because we have found so much harder work since.

As September nineteen twenty-four arrived, we were conscious of having moved a notch higher since our previous year; and, therefore, we proceeded to acquire a new dignity. Our active interest in school life increased tenfold. Science Club, De Oratoribus, and Tennis Club were formed, many of us becoming charter members. Much enthusiasm was aroused for debating as the girls vied with the boys, for the first time, for positions on the Triangular teams. In November we elected class officers, but we were unable to have any parties as we had no gymnasium.

Our honor roll showing was commendable in our junior year as we had a good percentage of our class on the list and, several times, held the highest averages in the school. In basketball, in football, and in baseball many worthy juniors received letters. Our junior days were brimming over with active and interesting high school life. It was then that we gained enthusiasm and ambition.

But it is to our senior year that we must look to appreciate truly our high school life. The hopes of years were at last realized. Early in November the school addition, containing the new combined gymnasium and auditorium, was finally completed. What senior has not experienced a sincere thrill of pride and of satisfaction as he has entered that gymnasium for programs, pep meetings, parties, and basketball games? We are equally proud of our cafeteria where we have enjoyed hot dinners on cold winter days and appetizing lunches after organization parties. Our school life has been further rounded by the new courses of home economics, manual training, auto mechanics, and physical education. Due credit must be given to the senior class officers who with the senior advisors worked to make the senior mixer, held in January, such a remarkable success.

CHARACTER IS ALL!

Class Prophecy

A Prophet there was, with flowing white hair,
Who was renowned as a mighty soothsay'r.
Now, I lived not in his day, nor he in mine,
So we agreed to set back the clock of Time.
Thus I sit close to him, very nearby,
And questions to him I eagerly ply.
"Oh, mighty Prophet, I fain would know how,
To tell what my class is doing ten years from now."
The wise man, he gazed with a grave, kindly eye,
And told me he would with my request comply.
He took out a mirror of clear, crystal sheen,
And told me to write down what I had seen.
The first that I saw in this remarkable glass,
Was the figure of a thin and tooth-pick like lass.
I learned that 'twas Lucile Hardgrove, who's become Advertising model for Silph Chewing Gum.
In a soda dispensary was Ray Breitung supreme
To see him jerk soda was surely a scream!
Playing on twin organs, I observe with pride,
Are Olive Smith and Marge Clarke quite up to their stride.
And Leo McCoy, who is feted and courted,
In his last role of "Faust" bellowed and snorted.
Sue Kremer, I note is quite the rage;
Well, she got her start on the Roosevelt stage.
Vince Musolf, I see, takes Valentino's place;
Yes, the women go wild o'er his handsome face.
Ruth Helz and Corinne Brucker run a taxi line,
And as their star driver, Karl Dobyns does shine.
Ralph Willis, a scientist, known from Cape to Cape,
As an authority on "Skulls, their size and shape."
Monie Baker in a theatre on the Great White Way,
Plays ingenue roles at two thousand per week pay.
Jeanne Tennant--an all around athletic champion is she
And her fame is known both on land and sea.

Karl Oberreich is the owner of a sauerkraut factory,
So many times a millionaire by this time is he.
Bud Wegner is the writer of powerful blank verse,
And the critics proclaim that it could be no worse.
Helen Husting's a kindergarten teacher! Can it be?
But yes! see the little children clustered about her knee.
Mrs. Murphy Ganor--why, yes, it's our Freddie,
And to all appearances, Murphy's still "the steady."
Ruthie Justen presides o'er a popcorn stand,
And butters it profusely with a liberal hand.
"Hutchins and Favreau--Get Your Shoes Shined Here"
Hm! Del and Waldo missed their calling, I fear.
Then in the mirror a wee speck did I see,
An aeroplane! and the aviator? Why, Alvin Lang, 'tis he!
Lloyd Allen, on his sobbing and soulful violin,
Helps Rev. Folsom retrieve penitents from sin.
Doris Cook and Dorothy Gabel in the choir do sing,
And their harmony thru the air does musically ring.
Then a billboard I saw with this amazing script,
"Come and see Fighting Larry get whipped!"
So Larry's a prizefighter--and Albert Yelle?
Why, Obby's his manager, so does the mirror tell.
Kenny Butterfield has a wonderful and worthwhile career;
He travels with Ringling's Circus all the year.
Betty Gruenheck's the first woman ambassador to France,
And she leads the handsome courtiers quite a dance.
Demure Biz Serwe is a writer of fairy tales;
Oh, many childish lips has she quieted, and many wails.
Now, I forgot to mention that this Clock of Time
Is the kind that does ring with a fearsome whine;
So this now it did, like a summoning call,
And at the same time vanished the Prophet, mirror, and all.

CLASS OFFICERS

Esther Halverson - -	Vice President
Louis Hanson -	Secretary
John Litcher - - - -	Treasurer
Genevieve Downs - -	Social Secretary

IT had to be ! ! ! The stars must have been propitious at the organization of the class of '27. Is it not fitting that we make this audacious statement since we feel that by our representation in school activities we have more than upheld the high standards of the Fond du Lac High School? The Honor Roll every six weeks boasts of many juniors. We are proud to claim such splendid junior representatives among the district champs as Dick Watson, Abe Manis, and Louie Hansen, stars of both basketball and football squads. We have girls who, too, have played important parts in school activities. Harriet Carpenter is vice-president of the Orchestra, Ruth Broda is vice-president of the Glee Club, and Marie Stepnoski is senior Consul of the Classical Club.

Besides holding such positions in organizations our girls have contributed to the success of pep meetings and football and basketball games. Without Esther Halverson and Agnes Promen as cheerleaders, what would the school have done to create pep? "Tis common proof" that our class party was one of the most successful in the annals of school history.

THE Class of '28! Who has not heard of us? We, by our enthusiastic co-operation, good fellowship, and acknowledged ability throughout the entire school, have conclusively disproved the fallacy--concocted, no doubt, by the upper-classmen--that a sophomore class is but a ncesesary evil. We have raised the standard of scholarship! The patronizing, lofty seniors have bowed before us in defeat in the athletic world. We have penetrated the social whirl with a successful party. Our members can be found in practically every organization which enrolls sophomores as members! Life and Peptimist staffs could not get along without us! One of our members is among the ten chosen for the debating team. Our class has ardently boosted every school enterprise, sophomores being well in evidence at athletic contests, the Dramatic Club program, the band concert, and the all-school operetta.

Our prominence and aptitude, however, were not without recognition. We enjoyed a privilege which no other sophomore class has had since that of '21. We were allowed to organize!

Our officers we believe, will lead us on to heights which will justify all that was forecast for us.

The Class of '28 is launched. We bear watching!

SUCCESS was the keynote of the work accomplished by the Dramtic club this year. The three one-act plays, The Maker of Dreams, The Slave with Two Faces, and The Florist Shop, were types of the rather unusual themes which the club members interpreted skilfully and appreciatively.

The club this year consisted of fifty-three members, all of whom displayed histrionic talent. To these members and to their coaches, Miss Bohlman and Miss Mickelson, is due the credit the club deserves.

The Class play, A Pair of Sixes, given at the Roosevelt Auditorium was the final success of the year. Unique portrayal of character and skilful interpretation were in evidence in the production of the Commencement play.

THE orchestra, although one of the smaller clubs of Fond du Lac High School, was one of the most active. The orchestra was in existence last year, but it was not formally organized until 1925-26. It has become an asset to our school because of its good work under the excellent direction of Mr. Schmitz.

The purpose of the club is to encourage the study of music and to prepare the students for later orchestra work.

The orchestra furnished the music for the commencement and baccalaureate exercises, for the operetta, The Toy Shop, sponsored by the Glee Club, and for matinee dances given in our new gymnasium.

THE Student Service Club, which was organized this year, has proved successful in whatever it has undertaken. The membership of the club is made up of four boys and four girls from each class, carrying not less than four subjects, and passing in all with no grade below 80.

The purpose of the club is to co-operate with the faculty in promoting such school activities and functions that are thought necessary for the improvement of the school.

The membership in the club is for one year, but a student is eligible to a reappointment for an additional year. No student, however, may serve more than two years.

THE Life Staff of 1926 has endeavored to give the students of Fond du Lac Senior High School a book that will hold mementoes of happy days and that will be a record of the ideals of the high school.

The staff wishes to express sincere gratitude to the engravers, photographers, printers, and to all who, in any way, have contributed to the success of this book.

The Life staff is composed of students from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. At the head of each department is a senior who in turn is under the supervision of a member of the faculty.

"La Tertulia"

(The Spanish Assembly)

UNUSUAL interest in the year's activities and achievements of La Tertulia, the Spanish assembly, was evidenced by the large attendance and whole-hearted participation of the members of this young and sturdy organization.

Under the able leadership of its faculty member and advisor, Miss Elms, consistent progress was made in creating active interest, and applying the knowledge acquired to practical use.

Fulfilling its purpose of building up the idea that Spanish is something more than a passive study, La Tertulia has justified its existence and will become more of a factor in the school each year.

In addition to its usefulness in this regard, its social functions have become a prominent part in the school year's experience. Pleasant affairs including sleigh ride parties, the annual picnics, participation in the celebration of the Mardi Gras with the French and German clubs, made the year pass only too quickly.

DE ORATORIBUS has now successfully completed its second year and has established itself as one of the most prominent and thriving organizations in school. The majority of meetings of the year were devoted to the study of the various forms of speech making, including such phases as parliamentary procedure, after dinner talks, and debating. Very clever toasts were given at the various informal suppers held during the year and at the very attractive spring tea held in the school cafeteria May 29, the first club dinner to be held at the school.

Many skillfully presented and interesting debates featured the year's work. De Oratoribus was honored by having two of its members, Helen Stroup and Loraine Nass make the team which represented the Fond du Lac High School in the Fox River Valley Triangular debates. In addition to serious debating, De Oratoribus put on a clever mock debate before the entire student body as a pep meeting for the Triangular debate.

In addition to its forensic activities the society also engaged in its annual philanthropical work during the Christmas season.

Much of the credit for the successful and prosperous year is due to the advisors, the Misses Kitty and Teresa O'Brien for their patience, kind assistance, and cheerful encouragement.

THE activities of the Commercial Club of 1925-26 were carried on with much enthusiasm. Its members derived profit from talks given by business men and enjoyed good music and readings.

The purpose of the meetings was to bring about closer relations between business men and the high school stduents, to give the students an understanding of the demands of modern business, and to show them the need of good entertainment in their lives.

Each year the club sends the winners of the District Commercial Contest to Whitewater, where they always have made a creditable showing. In this connection, the club has sponsored movie benefits and other activities, the proceeds of which were used to send the contestants to Whitewater and to purchase articles for the commercial department.

The club co-operates with the Placement Bureau in obtaining positions for commercial graduates. It has been of material assistance in notifying the Bureau of vacancies and informing business men o fthis particular work.

This year many students won honors in speed typing, for which they received medals or certificates. These were awarded at the various club meetings.

The winners and medals won are as follows:

Bronze Pin---Brucker, Corrine, Duffrin, Viola, Friedel, Henrietta, Gaffney, Mike, Glasow, Marion, Hagen, Ethel, Lemke, Lucille, Klingbeil, Dorothy, Manske, Harold, Markow, Blossom, Meidel, Helen, Sadoff, Rose, Sampson, Muriel, Schlaak, Eleanor, Smith, Fern, Smith, Olive, Tursky, Iva, Minton, Jeanette.

This year Fond du Lac High School won the District Commercial Contest for the third consecutive time.

Eight schools participated in the contest which was held at the Fond du Lac High School on April 17.

Fond du Lac won points in every event which included Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typing, Rapid Calculation, and Penmanship.

The winners of the first three places received certificates which entitled them to enter the State Contest held at Whitewater.

Thos eligible to represent Fond du Lac at the State Contest are:
Bookkeeping: Lester Wist, Richard Assaf.
Typing: Dorothy Klingbeil, Olive Smith, Blossom Markow.
Penmanship: Josephine Simon, Mildred White.
Rapid Calculation: Mildred Simon.

A LANGUAGE club supplements the work done in the class-room. With the great amount of material to be covered in a foreign language class, there is very little time to bring in the so called "Realien." The club meetings give the students an opportunity to delve into the history, literature, and art of the people whose language is being studied.

With this purpose in mind the Deutscher Verein was organized in October, 1924.

Although the club is not yet two years old, it had a membership of about seventy-five during the past year. The meetings were well attended and very intersting.

Some of the programs were given over wholly to the study of German writers and musicians. Among those studied were Wagner, Schubert, Schiller, and Goethe. The short plays and dialogues too were of special interest.

There were also the usual number of annual social events which are always looked forward to by all the members. There was the annual Christmas party, or Weihnachtsfest, the Mardi Gras celebrated with the French and Spanish clubs, and the picnic at the end of the year.

The following account of one of the meetings of the Deutscher Verein was published recently in the bulletin of the Wisconsin Association of Modern Language Teachers. Professor B. Q. Morgan of the University of Wisconsin is the editor of the bulletin. The article appeared under the heading Peppy Fond du Lac.

"Studying the life and music of Franz Schubert, great German musician and composer, was the object of the meeting of the Deutscher Verein, Monday, November 17.

A complete account of Schubert's life and works was given by Lenore Damrow. She told the sixty members present about The Unfininshed Symphony, his masterpiece, which was left incomplete at the time of his death. The now popular "Song of Love" is the theme of his great work.

One of Schubert's most beautiful compositions, The Serenade was played by Olive Smith, piano; Helmuth Bramstedt, violin; and Aubrey Amann and Harold Wagner, cornets. Dorothy Gabel gave a discussion of Blossom Time, a very successful musical play which reflects the life of Schubert.

A short play, Beim Zahnarzt, was presented in German by Irving Buck, Karl Villwock, and Frederick Dille.

THE girls Glee Club under the guidance of Miss Elsbeth Korrer, director of music in the public schools of Fond du Lac, finished another successful year. The members met regularly twice a week to practice for the operetta, The Toy Shop, and to study other songs. Miss Korrer did much to develop the talent of which our school boasts. It was due to her untiring efforts and to the students who supported her that the club had a prosperous year.

The purpose of the Glee Club is to cultivate the voice and also to cultivate a love of good music.

A credit was given for this work; but only those, who worked hard and faithfully, received it, for "There are no gains without pains."

ANOTHER year of hard work, excellent supervision, and concentrated effort, on the part of the Peptimist staff, has receded into the past.

The record of 1924-25 for early publication of the paper was broken, the first issue of 1925-26 appearing October 23. The improvement in the humor column, an increase in number of exchanges, the establishment of a literary column, a few notable interviews, a creed contest, and the sending of the Peptimist to the Central Interscholastic Press Association stand out as landmarks in the historical era of 1925-26.

To the advisors of any publication should be given a large share of credit for any success which that publication may attain. This was unusually true in the case of our school paper. The Peptimist staff acknowledges with much appreciation the creditable work of C. H. Merriman, business advisor, and of Miss Justine Kumhera, editorial advisor.

Le Cercle Francais

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS held a number of interesting meetings this year. One of the most enjoyable was the second monthly meeting during which Miss Elms gave an interesting talk on Montreal, Quebec, and Niagara Falls. In addition to the enjoyable programs, Le Cercle Francais held a sleighride party together with the Spanish Club. After this event, lunch was served at the cafeteria. Again, the members had a very good time when they joined both the Spanish and German Clubs in the Mardi Gras.

The purposes of the club were twofold---instructive and social. To carry out the first, the members had reports given on current topics in France, and on other similar subjects. They learned songs and short plays, and the games that they played helped to build up their vocabularies. At their social functions, the members gained a better acquaintance with each other.

The members of this organization felt that they were very fortunate in having Miss Elms for their advisor.

THE Inner Circle rounded out another successful year in debating. The first important event on the program was the initiation of the new members. Most of these boys proved to be real assets to the club.

The object of the society was to give practice in debating, discussion, composition, declamation, elocution, and parliamentary practice. The boys tried to get as many of their members as possible on the debating team. They were successful in doing this, six of the eight places having been held by Inner Circle boys. The boys were Lloyd Allan, Richard Grassy, Richard Heath, Leo McCoy, Ralph Willis and Stanley Watson.

Minor debates were held at the regular meetings. The question for the first debate was, Resolved: That disarmament should be followed by all powers. The two teams were captained by Otto Justl and Harold Burkholtz. The question for the second debate was, Resolved: That France's attitude in Syria is barbaric and uncalled for. The captains were Clayton Kintzler and Lloyd Allan.

As in the past, Fond du Lac was in the Fox River Valley Forensic League.

THE year 1925-26 marks the most successful year in the history of the Mortar Board, one of the most popular clubs in the high school.

This society strives primarily to insure good-fellowship among the girls and to increase interest along cultural, classical, and literary lines. All junior and senior girls with a scholastic average of seventy-five are eligible to the club. Nearly every active junior and senior girl belongs to the Mortar Board.

In this society, the girls unconsciously receive a lasting lesson in democracy. Each girl helps the others in every way possible and is made to feel that she is just as important as any of the other girls. Dependability is another ideal the society teaches its members. The Mortar Board girls have been given many responsible tasks; such as, the sale of football and basketball tickets, and charges of some of the pep-meetings,---all these tasks being successfully discharged.

Regular programs were held every two weeks. At these meetings, the girls were entertained by music, talks, and readings. Many interesting programs were arranged. Besides the regular programs, several social events were held during the year. The first event, the hard-time party, was a great success. At this party, all the new girls were initiated and were forced to participate i na weird ceremony. The girls became well acquainted in the other stunts enjoyed that evening. They certainly looked as if they were experiencing hard times. The next event was the "Kids" party. "Kids" of all ages were present, including a baby in her carriage. Dancing and children's games afforded the entertainment for the evening. Of course, Santa Claus came and presented a stocking filled with candy to each of the girls. A very successful candy sale was the next event of this active club. At the prelenten masquerade, every character imaginable participated in the fun. At this party, th sophomore girls were entertained. A grand march was one of the features of the evening. Prizes were awarded for the funniest, the most original, and the prettiest costumes.

The last event of the year was the banquet. The banquet, being a reunion of all Mortar Board girls, was attended by as many of the alumni as could possibly come. That the Mortar Board has a lasting influence over its members was shown by the fact that its alumni were still as enthusiastic over the organization as when they were while actively participating in this club.

It is hoped that the Mortar Board will continue, under the wise and capable leadership of Mrs. Roberts, to be as successful in the future as it has been this year.

THE Mortar Board charter members of 1922 under the able directorship of Mrs. Jean Roberts began a plan through which the present club members are able to keep in touch with the alumni. A filing system that has proved to be very successful was organized. Each Mortar Board girl has a page in this file. When she is a senior, she gives one of her graduation pictures which is placed with her record. On the same page of the file a kodak picture of the girl is placed under which is written her nick-name and her pet hobby. With these pictures a printed record of the girl's full name, her home, her parents' name, and her address if she is away from home is kept. In this way the file acts as a connecting link between the present Mortar Board chapter and the alumni.

THE purposes of the Science Club are to promote interest and to further the knowledge and the spirit of science. The meetings were educational as well as entertaining. The appreciation of the club by the students is shown by their cooperation to make its meetings successful. All students who take biology, chemistry, or physics are eligible for membership.

ON May 17, the tennis club of 1926 was formed. At the opening meeting about ninety girls were enrolled, an increase of about fifty over the enrollment of the previous year.

Although the club was organized too late to start a tournament, the girls enjoyed a number of matches. Girls who did not know how to play were taught the game. Much good material was found and will be available for next year.

The Classical Club

THE year 2629 A. U. C. proved to be a very prosperous one for the Roman State in spite of the fact that it lost the province of Sicily and that Gaul remained unorganized. The enrollment is at present one hundred and ninety, slightly below last year's census; nevertheless the Quaestors report an increased reserve fund which now approximates nineteen hundred sesterces.

The usual calendar was followed. On November sixth, a contio was held. The various candidates for offices made their campaign speeches, setting forth their political sentiments on the subjects of taxation, division of power, social affairs, et cetera.

The Comitia Tributa (Assembly by Tribes) was called on November thirteenth. For the first time in the history of the State, every tribe voted. Ten Tribunes, four Aediles, and twenty Quaestors were elected with honors equally divided between the two parties.

On November twentieth, the Consular election took place. The Patrician candidates were Helen Stroup and Lloyd Allan; the Plebeian candidates were Marie Stepnoski and Florence Henning. Marie handed out lollypops at the polls; and the citizens, like their ancestors, showed their appreciation by electing her to the highest office in the Roman State. Lloyd Allan was chosen Junior Consul.

The Feast of the Saturnalia was celebrated on December nineteenth. This is noteworthy as being the first social function held in the new gymnasium. The Aediles, Howard Folsom, Leone Mielke, Hertha Wegner, and Sylvester Stepnoski, had charge of the affair and rendered invaluable services.

In March, six Heads of Tribes were tried in the court of the Praeter Urbanus, Frank Fitzpatrick, on the charge of failing to vote at the Comitia Tributa. Two offenders had previously pleaded guilty and paid their fines; two were acquitted and four were found guilty by due process of law.

By amicable agreement, the Consuls divided their time of office equally, the Junior Consul, Lloyd Allan, taking the rst six months of the year, and the Senior Consul, Marie Stepnoski, taking the last six months. Under the Junior Consul's control, a splendid public spectacle was presented.

Activities of the year were brought to a grand finale by the Annual Picnic, an event much anticipated and long remembered in the Roman State.

The Operetta

Rosenberg, Villwock, Meyers, Bramstedt, Wagner, Dieman, Dowland, Smith, Yelle, Grube, Silgen.

THE TOY SHOP, an operetta, was presented by the High School Glee Club on April 17 and 18, 1926. The cast was comprised of a group of grade school pupils, members of the Glee Club, and a few other high school students. Needless to say, the presentation was most successful. The lighting effects were as ingenious as the costumes were attractive. The songs and dances were very cleverly executed while the acting was exceedingly clever.

The scenes of the Operetta took place in the shop of an old toy-man. As the clock strikes twelve, the dolls in the shop begin to come to life, and with their assumed animation the events of the story begin to occur. Among the dolls there has long been a desire for some established form of government, but their difficulty in obtaining this lies in the fact that they are unable to choose their queen, since there are several lady dolls among them who desire the honor of being queen. Then the child appears in the shop and tells the dolls that the queen is to be her beloved Old Doll. The main scene closes with the festivities in honor of the coronation of the Old Doll. The last scene of the presentation shows the old toy-man coming into his shop where there are no signs of the festivities of the night before.

Too much praise cannot be given to Miss Korrer and to Miss Lind who worked unceasingly to make the operetta a success. Miss Korrer had charge of the music, while Miss Lind supervised the art work, such as the costuming, scenery, and lighting effects. Miss Baker and Miss Brenner were in charge of the stage management and of the dramatic coaching.

A Pair Of Sixes

A FUROR E of fun and praise is the last word given in behalf of the commencement play produced at the Roosevelt auditorium June 4, 1926.

In a New York office, known as the Eureka Digestive Pill Company, "Mr. Blood and Brains" and "Mr. Bones and Fat" are constantly at war with each other. At the eleventh hour Thomas J. Vanderholt, the family lawyer, signs a peace treaty contract which will supposedly end this fifty-ninth quarrel. Seemingly, all goes well, for a year at least, when "Blood and Brains," alias T. Boggs Johns, becomes the real domesticated servant of "Bones and Fat," alias George B. Nettleton. This contract, of course, has been decided by a pair of sixes against a lovely queen.

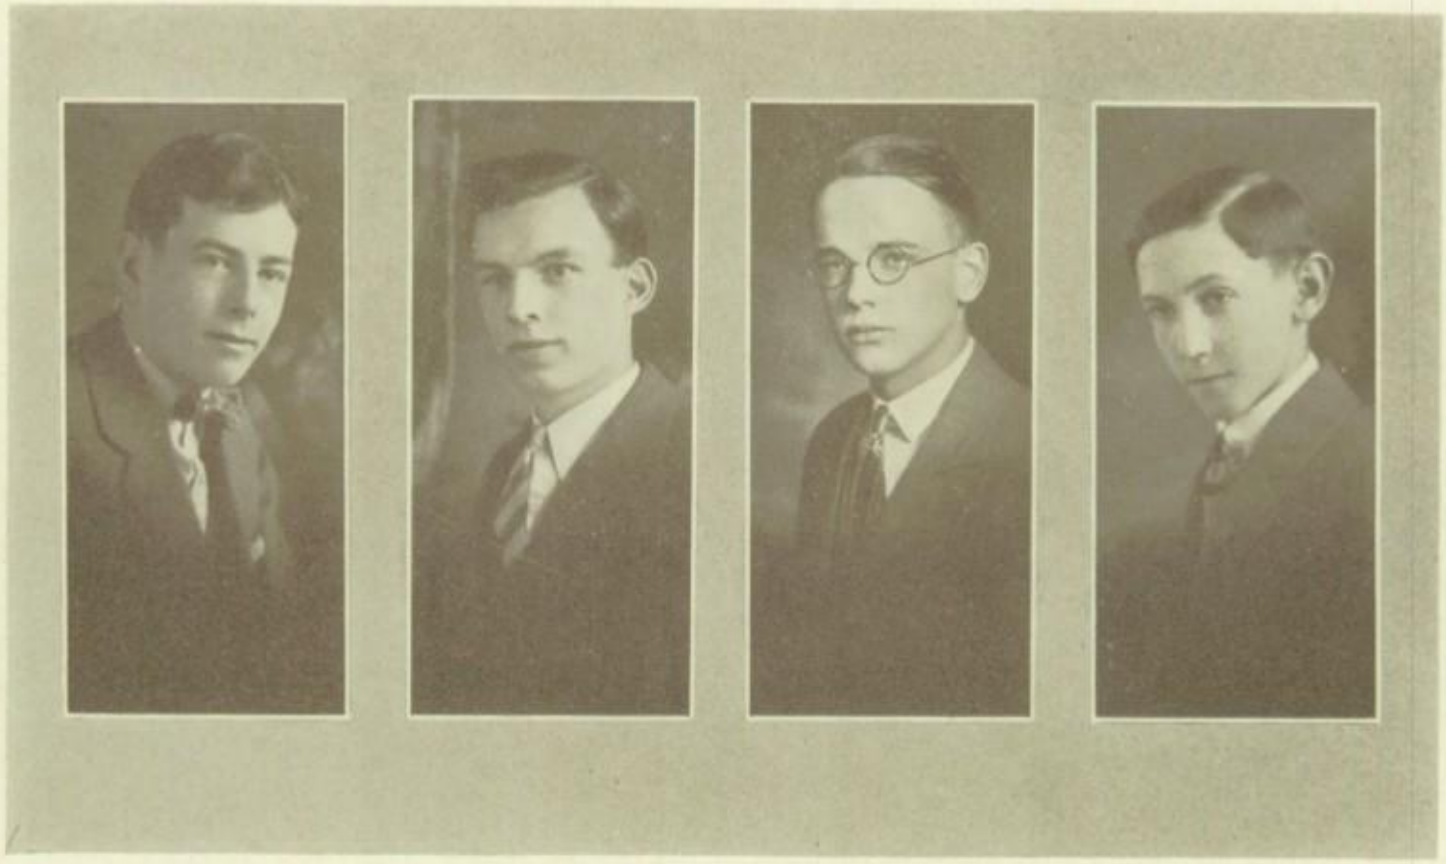
The national indoor sport turns into a royal flush when the servant, Johns, to the astonishment of his master, announces that his newly acquired position as a butler offers him a vast opportunity. It must, of course, since Mrs. Nettleton is willing to shower attention and sympathy upon the poor servant, Johns. Before "Bones and Fat" discovers the hoax planned by the clever Miss Cole, he writhes in agony at the very audacity of his former co-partner in business.

Florence Cole, much admired by Lawyer Vanderholt and T. Boggs Johns, matches a bit of her womanly intelligence with the professionally old lawyer's. Because the contract, as Miss Cole has discovered, is based on a freak game of cards, it is illegal. Since this is the case, Johns is reinstated in the office of the Eureka Digestive Pill Company where we hope to find "Blood and Brains" and "Bones and Fat" on speaking terms, at least when strangers are about.

With Raymond Breitung as George B. Nettleton, Glen Kinkel as T. Boggs Johns, Sue Kremer as Florence Cole, and Lucille Kappell as Sally Parker, the production could not help but be a huge success. The characters in the cast showed histrionic talent. In fact, there was not a member who did not show a keen appreciation for the part he interpreted. As one watched the performance and listened to the members of th cast, one had little difficulty in forgetting that it was, after all ,an amateur performance.

The success of the commencement play is due to the efforts of the able coaches, Miss Bohlman and Miss Michelson

Interscholastic Debating



Leo McCoy, Lloyd Allan, Stanley Watson, Richard Grassy (Alternate).

Affirmative Team

Leo McCoy---

Leo McCoy's best quality lies in the fact that he is sincere. His manner of speaking proved him to be deeply interested in the subject on which he was debating; thus he compelled his audience to realize the fallacy of his opponents' arguments.

Lloyd Allan---

Lloyd Allan proved his capability as an excellent debater. His fluent style and his forcibility of expression were equally helpful in making his speech impressive.

Stanley Watson---

In Stanley Watson there lies the quality which is most important to a debater; that is, the ability to convince his audience that he is right. His speech certainly proved his worth as a very capable debater.

Interscholastic Debating

Ralph Willis, Helen Stroup, Richard Heath, Amos Petit (Alternate)

Negative Team

Ralph Willis---

The most outstanding factors in his speech were his clearness of expression and the stability of his arguments. With his excellent oratory he showed his ability to impress his audience and to gain their approval of his arguments.

Helen Stroup---

Helen Stroup has ably demonstrated the fact that girls can participate in high school forensics. She has also proved that she has the talent and ability of an experienced debater.

Richard Heath---

Notwithstanding the fact that this was his first season in forensics, Richard Heath proved that he is possessed of great proficiency as a debater. He covered his points well and disproved the arguments of his opponents with great ease.

Senior Banquet

THE social season of the senior class came to a climax when the senior banquet was held Thursday, April 22, at the Hotel Retlaw. The attendance at the banquet set a record never before equaled in the history of Fond du Lac High School.

Raymond Breitung, class president, presided as toastmaster. The history of the class was presented by Jeanne Tennant; and the class prophecy, which proved to be a source of much pleasure, was read by Lorraine Nass.

Mr. Goodrich gave a talk on the value of a complete education in preference to an improperly balanced education. He referred to the mastering of an automobile as an example. The learning of the parts represents a high school education; the driving implies a practical education; and the science of an automobile's construction represents a college education.

Mr. Theisen stressed the importance of choosing a definite goal in life and explained that the best insurance policy anyone can get is a position which will insure a livelihood when the age of retirement is reached. Mr. Theisen also brought out the fact that what one does is not so important as the way one does it.

Miss Waters read a letter which she received from Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Frank expressed admiration for the student who could walk through life without the aid of a band and for the student who could think for himself. A wish was also expressed that every graduate would be able to continue in some school of advanced learning.

Dancing was enjoyed from nine o'clock until eleven o'clock, the music being furnished by a six piece orchestra.

Senior Mixer

ABOUT sixty-five couples attended the first senior mixer held in the new gymnasium. The gym was prettily decorated with coral and Nile green as the motif. A large poster in Nile green and coral, th eclass colors, hung at one end of the gym.

Each person was given a number as he came in, and was instructed to find the person with the corresponding number, who was to be his partner for the grand march. Then dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

It was by far th most successful affair ever held by any senior class, and an event to be remembered by all who attended the party.

The committees in charge of the mixer were: Miss Loraine Brenner, chairman of the faculty committee, which included the Misses Elizabeth Waters, Dora Fox, and Mrs. Roberts. Betty Gruenheck, Howard Folsom, Winifred Cochrane, Sue Kremer, Corinne Brucker, Leo McCoy, Waldo Favreau, and Ruth Helz comprised the decorating and program committees.

Junior Party

ON February 13 the Senior High School gymnasium was the scene of a successful party held by the junior class. The party was intended primarily as a mixer and as such was a decided success. Stunts such as tag dances, circle two steps, broom waltzes, and matching numbers for partners aided considerably in helping the members of the class get acquainted.

Valentine favors and class colors were used in decorating the gym, a large banner of old rose and silver bearing the numerals 1927 being placed over the stage. After a grand march led by Lachlan Peeke and Ruth Brodda, the students were served refreshments in the cafeteria.

The party was chaperoned by the Misses Kitty O'Brien, Mary Lawless, Meta Bohlman, and Mr. O'Connor, junior faculty advisors. The committee for the party consisted of Genevieve Downs, chairman, assisted by Ernestine Wagner, T. J. Gordon, Lachlan Peeke, George Bishop, Louis Hanson, Esther Halverson, John Litcher, and George LeMieux.

Sophomore Party

PRECEDENCE received a jolt on the evening of May the first when nearly a hundred members of the Class of '28 enjoyed an informal dancing party in the high school gymnasium. This was the first time in many years that sophomores, as a class, sponsored a party.

Several novelties were introduced during the evening. A robbers' dance was one of the features. By matching numbers on card, orchid for boys and silver for girls---the class colors---, waltz partners were determined. Maurice Murray and Mary Gruenheck were ajudged the prize waltzers. An exhibition Charleston was given by Tom Dollhausen.

Refreshments consisting of orange ice and cake were served in the cafeteria. The High School orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Schmitz, furnished the music for the evening.

The clas sadvisors, Miss Lyons, Miss Wade, Miss Elms, and Mr. Greene were chaperones.

Committees in charge were: Entertainment, Elaine Boudry, Mary Marshall, Grace Hebert. Refreshment, Mary Dana, Henry Ottery, Jack Niles. Tickets, Nyla Kraft.

Socially the Class of '28 has arrived.

Matinee Dances

"MATINEE dance after school!" These were welcome words to the students. The pleasure bound dancers rushed to the gym after dismissal of school, and there had a merry time until five-thirty o'clock when the school orchestra played the party melody, Home Sweet Home.

The matinee dances given under the auspices of the Life staff to help financially in the publication of the annual, were a decided success and incidentally contributed to the good times had in the gym.

E. D. Fruth
Director of Athletics

THE man who has made Fond du Lac the most feared school in the state basketball circle is her beloved coach---Edward D. Fruth.

Mr. Fruth's teams have won state championships three times, the district tournament at Oshkosh four times, first place in the Ripon College invitational meet once, second place at Oshkosh once, third place at Oshkosh twice, fourth place at Oshkosh once, and second place at Ripon once.

Fond du Lac's Coach is symbolical of the highest type of manhood. Whether he is directing an athletic team or a class of students, he always calls forth the same spirit of respect and co-operation. He is the kind of man who inspires youths who will go out and give all for him. He not only has the faculty of inspiring a team, but he knows basketball. His teams have always shown the result of his efficient coaching. There is not a better basketball coach in Wisconsin today. A Fruth coached team is always a good one.

---Alfred Hintz; '26.

E. F. Baker
Football Coach

ELMER F. BAKER, football coach for the past two seasons, has worked wonders with his teams. Although his boys have been rated as the smallest and lightest in the Valley Conference, they have come through as winners because they have had instilled in them a knowledge of scientific football.

In 1921 Baker came to Fond du Lac from Dubuque College, Iowa, where for three years he starred as a lineman on teams that won several championships. During his first two years at Fondy, he was assistant coach to E. D. Fruth, who at that time directed the Red and White in football. In the fall of 1923 Baker acted as assistant to T. E. Royal, former University of Illinois backfield star. But in 1924 Baker took the reins and with Fruth's assistance put out a team that lost only one game and that finished second in the conference. In 1925 his team lost only two games, these defeats coming at a time when the squad was crippled by injuries.

Under the direction of Coach Baker, Fondy High looks forward to a bright future in the realm of football.

---Alfred Hintz, '26.

DEL HUTCHINS
Retiring Captain

FOR three years "Del" has served Fondy High on the gridiron and basketball court. This year, his final term, "Del" has had the distinction of being the captain of both the football and basketball squads. Much credit is due him for the able manner in which he led the 1925 football team through a successful season. His punting, passing, and running have earned him the name of a "triple threat" player. He was conceded a place on the All Valley Conference Team because of his splendid generalship and judgment as quarterback. Along with his splendid records as a true, clean cut athlete "Del" has maintained high scholastic averages. Fondy High is indeed proud to have had a leader like Captain Hutchins.

ABE MANIS
Captain-Elect

NEXT year's football squad will have a real leader in Abe who has been a mainstay on two previous Fondy elevens. In both basketball and football he has distinguished himself at Fondy High. Under his leadership Fondy High should enjoy another banner football season. His ability to break up opposing plays and his cool headedness made him an asset to Bake's 1925 football machine. Abe's presence in the line as tackle made it a veritable stonewall. He has plenty of weight, height, and speed, and ability to get his man . Much is to be expected of him in his final year. We wish you good luck Abe!

The Squad in Action

WITH an uncrossed goal line for the first four games of the season, Fond du Lac High school's 1925 football team can point with pride to its record for the past season. The only two defeats suffered by Coach Baker's aggregation came in the last two games of the season when bad weather and injuries considerably handicapped the squad.

Fondy's team was outweighed in every game by the opposing line and backfield. The team managed to scrap along gloriously, however, until the next to the last game. On that day Fondy played in a blinding snowstorm at Sheboygan in weather that was favorable for polar bears and seals. Both teams fumbled repeatedly; Sheboygan's two touchdowns came as a result of fumbles, one of them in the last five seconds of play. Fondy had it all over Sheboygan when it came to plunging and passing for gains, but whenever the Fondy warriors got within striking distance of the goal they would lose possession of the elusive pigskin. In that game Captain Hutchins suffered a badly injured leg and was carried off the field. On a dry field Fondy would have been about two touchdowns better than Sheboygan.

The Fond du Lac boys were taken to Madison as guests of the Rotary club where they witnessed the Wisconsin homecoming game. The next Saturday they travelled to Beaver Dam and beat the Wayland Academy team in a non-conference tilt, 7 to 0, in that team's home-coming.

What made the season a great success was Fondy's wonderful triumph over Oshkosh, 7 to 6, in the homecoming game at Rueping park. Oshkosh had a great team this year, but did not find herself until the Fondy game. Neither team scored in the first half, but in the third quarter Oshkosh broke through for a touchdown. The goal kick was blocked. Fondy received the next kickoff and rushed the ball straight down the field to the 10 yard line from where Jimmy Purcell received a forward pass from Del Hutchins and dropped across the line for the tying score. The fans were breathless as Brunet made ready to try for a drop-kick, and then let loose with a mighty yell as the ball sailed high over the posts for the winning tally. Oshkosh was the first team to cross the Fondy goal.

Then followed the disastrous tilts against Sheboygan and West Green Bay. It was a day of football upsets all over the country when the "dope" went wrong and all the picked teams lost because of mud or snow-covered fields. Fondy was no exception. There is no alibi to offer over the 26 to 0 reverse at Green Bay except that the score would have been closer had Hutchins been able to play.

Fond du Lac's players won praise in every city in which they played. Natie Cohen was placed at end and Brunet at fullback on Al Mayer's all-conference team. Hutchins was given the captaincy and quarterback post on the second team; Whalen placed at guard, and Manis at tackle. Football experts in other cities followed suit, except that a Sheboygan scribe placed Hutchins at quarter on the first team.

Although Coach Baker will lose some of his greatest players this June in Hutchins, Folsom, Fitzpatrick, Cohen, Purcell, and others, he can be depended upon to come through with another winning aggregation next fall. Abe Manis will captain next year's team. Abe has played tackle for two years for Fondy, and his experience in the line will be a valuable asset.

DELBERT HUTCHINS

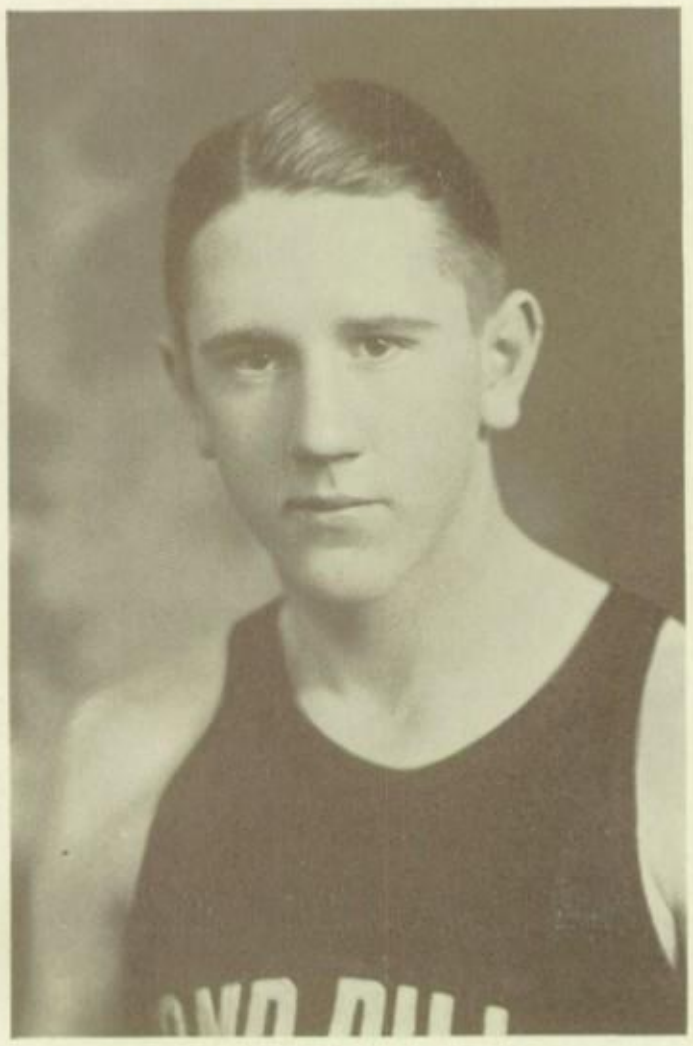
THE name "Del" Hutchins will always be analogous to the word "athletics" at Fondy High. "Del" is one of the greatest and cleanest leaders that we have ever been privileged to have. The very fact that he was chosen as captain and guard on both the All-Conference and District teams proved the proficiency of the Red and White leader. He started his high school basketball career as a sub on Coach Fruth's 1924 State championship squad. This year was "Del's" last and while his leaving will be a true loss we are looking forward to some great work from him in the "Big Ten" circles.



DICK WATSON
Captain-Elect

TO Dick Watson goes the honor of piloting Fondy High's 1926-7 basketball hopes. Though small in stature he knows the game from A to Z. He is especially dangerous to his opponents because of his uncanny eye for the basket. He is undoubtedly one of the flashiest forwards put out by Coach Fruth in recent years. He is a regular tornado of speed and has plenty of fight that has been so characteristic of all Fond du Lac players. Dick followed right into the footsepts of his brother "Bill" who was a mainstay on Fondy's 1919 State championship team. Next year, his final year, should prove a fitting climax to his three years of splendid service.

Success in Basketball

WINNING the Valley Conference and District Championships and being eliminated from the state tournament only because of bad luck is the enviable record of Coach Fruth's Red and White cagers. Although they seemed a better team than Superior, free throws beat Fondy 18-15 in the State meet at Madison. Evidently tired out by the Superior game, the team lost another hard fight to LaCrosse 15-11, and returned home without the championship. Nevertheless everyone should be proud of the team because they played through a hard season with success.

The season proper started in December when the Fruthmen scored a 23-6 win over the Ripon Frosh. Shortly afterwards in another practice game they also took in the alumni 18-11.

In a hard fought game Fondy Highs lost their first conference tilt to Sheboygan 20-15. The next week they had little trouble in disposing of East Green Bay to the tune of 30-12.

The squad then proceeded to wipe out any previous defeat Oshkosh ever has given us by running all around the sawdust city cagers by the score of 29-15. The Highs went into second place because of this victory. Coach Fruth's basketeers continued on their way to the conference championship by beating Marinette 28-12 at the senior gym.

Fondy's championship hopes were temporarily shattered at Appleton where the papermakers beat us 15-13 in a last minute rally. We were again put in the running when this game with two others was forfeited by Appleton because three of her men were ineligible at the time of playing.

The strong Neenah five then came down to Fond du Lac and defeated the team in a nonconference tilt, 18-15.

On the next Friday night the Fruthmen went up to Green Bay and won another close conference tilt from the West Bay, 15-14, Manis and Watson being contributing factors in the victory. Oshkosh then came down intent on avenging the defeat the team handed them earlier in the season, but the team withstood the invasion and emerged on the long end of a 9-8 score after an exciting game.

Fondy then removed another championship obstacle by beating Appleton 19-10. Hutchins played only one quarter, but his presence gave the team moral support.

Fox River Valley Conference Champs! The team went to Manitowoc and by a brilliant victory over the shipbuilders earned this title. Battling against their opponents 12-11 lead at the end of the third quarter, the Fruthmen emerged victors 16-13.

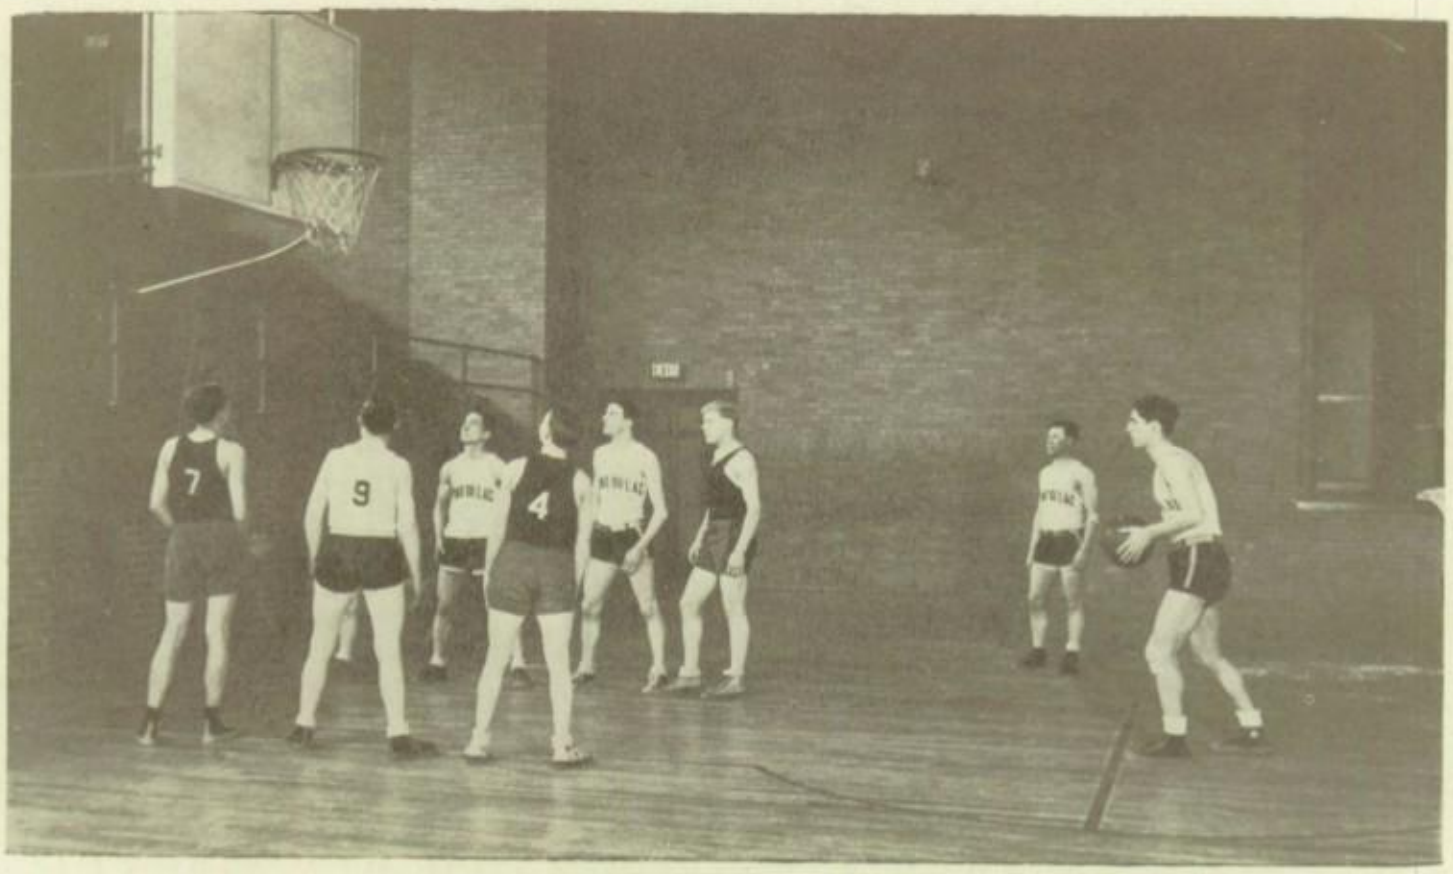
Fond du Lac and Neenah then entered the Oshkosh District Tournament as the two most formidable contenders, and the "dope" later proved correct. The Fondy Highs swamped Ripon 42-13 in the opening game, and repeated the next day by defeating Berlin 20-3. Neenah also won two games although Oshkosh gave them an unexpected fight. In the final game the Fruthmen overcame Neenah's 13-9 half time lead by out-scoring Neenah 12-4 in the last half; and won one of their hardest games by the score of 21-17. Therefore they became District champs and also avenged an earlier defeat by the same team.

LOUIS HANSEN

JAMES PURCELL

ABE MANIS

This year the team was ably led by Del Hutchins, whose cool headedness and leadership always showed themselves. He was placed on the all-conference team as guard and captain with his team mate Manis. Manis proved to be a very valuable center by leading the conference scoring with 35 field goals and 13 free throws. Cohen was Fondy's next brightest scorer with 24 field goals and 15 free throws. Hutchins and Hanson were also guards on the all District Tournament team.



FOLSOM

EICHER

COHEN

The team seemed to have bad luck in sinking free throws, but their team work carried them through many a hard tilt. This is the second District Championship the team has won in the last three years, and the fourth in the last nine years. The school ought to be very proud of their team. Dick Watson, who held down one of the forward positions with skill, will be next year's captain.

Girls Basketball

Top Row—Miss Keeley, Coach, Holtz, Mathwig, Hanrahan, Ehrhardt, Gilboy.
Bottom Row—Fitzpatrick, McGrath, Meracle, McCrory, Ridgeway.

FOR the first time in years, the girls had a chance this year to show their ability at indoor sports. Other years they had to limit their abilities to outdoor work only; however, this year, under the careful training of the gym instructor, Miss Keeley, they have made much progress in basketball.

Four basketball games were played. The first game took place in the gymnasium during school hours. The senior girls played the sophomore girls and beat them 13-3. The winning team played the junior team and beat them; then the two teams that lost played each other, the sophomores winning that game. The big game of the season of the season took place when senior girls played the Vocational school five and won from them 30-0.

The practising began in January and lasted until the end of March. It is hoped that next year the feminine faction of our school will have a much better chance to show their talents in the athletic fields which have been absent from our school life for so long.

Interclass Basketball

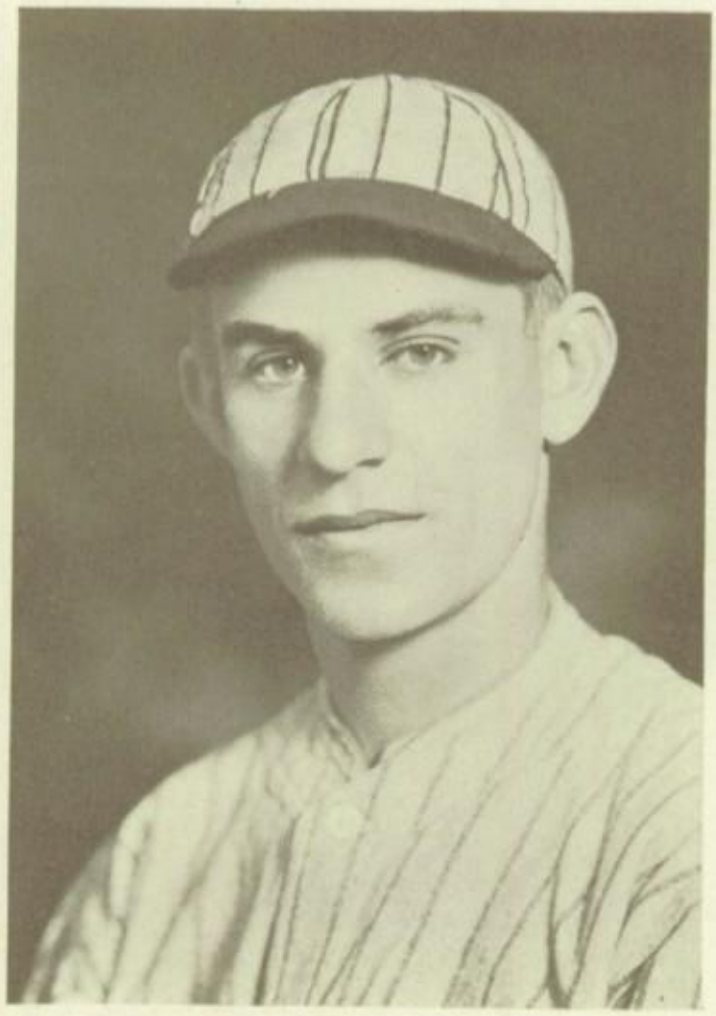
Bottom Row—Ottery, Holmes, Hanley, Immel, Fitzpatrick.

THE first annual interclass basketball schedule came to a close when in the last class game the sophomores defeated the juniors, thus winning the interclass championship. The sophomore team was an example of a highly developed machine. Under the able coaching of Mr. Jones the underclassmen turned defeat into victory. The smart of the two defeats which the Jones' machine received at the beginning of the season was easily soothed by the wide margin victories of all the remaining games. Accurate, even, and swift playing enabled the sophomores to overcome their lack of weight. The one fact about the championship team that stands out is that in no game did any individual player star.

Much credit is due Coach Jones for securing cooperation, the life of the sophomore machine. By the tense interest shown in all the inter class games, it may be judged that they were a source of much pleasure to all basketball fans.



HAROLD MANSKE
Baseball Captain

HAROLD MANSKE, a veteran of two years scholastic experience in the great American sport, was selected to captain Coach Fruth's baseball hopes this season. He held down the shortstop position on last year's team. His handling of liners and sure base throws evidenced his ability. Aside from his fielding prowess, he has been a dangerous man at the bat and can be relied upon to register a hit in the pinches. Manske is well deserving of the honor. Under his leadership Fondy should be represented by a winning combination.

Review of Baseball Season

FORTY candidates answered the call of Coaches Baker and Fruth for baseball. The enthusiasm was high. The prospects for another crack high school baseball nine this year are rosy. There are seven veterans back from last year in addition to some promising new players and others who participated in the class league contests in 1925.

Nate Cohen will probably carry the brunt of the pitching and Louie Hanson the catching. "Banbino" Miller, the hard slugger who doesn't know what it feels like to strike out, will be back at first base. Captain Manske will probably hold down his old position at short. Two other infield positions, third and second will have to be filled by new men.

The outfield will be well fortified with three veterans in Meiss, Hallback, and Willis. "Buck" Brunet, who was ineligible for the "varsity" nine last year, but who is rated one of the best players in the school, will be on this year's squad. He may be used as a catcher and Hanson moved to an infield position. Eicher and Purcell are two other good prospects.

Coach Fruth has not announced the booking of any games, but challenges have been received from Janesville, Wayland Academy, Berlin, and others. At present a diamond east of the river and north of West Ninth street is used for practice. The real games will be played on the Fair Ground diamond or in the Rueping Athletic park if it is repaired in time. The baseball mentors are watching the class games and hope they may be able to pick "varsity" material from them.

Physical Education For the Girls

THIS year, for the first time in the history of the Fond du Lac High School, the girls have had the advantages of physical education. The boys have always had more or less of a chance to indulge in such sports as football, baseball, and basketball; but heretofore no opportunity has been given the girls.

The aims of physical education are many. The promotion of good health, the proper use of leisure time, the establishment of higher ideals, and the accomplishment of physical, as well as social, mental, and mora lfitness are some of the aims of the course.

How physical education establishes higher ideals and develops a moral and social fitness is easily seen in organized games; such as, baseball, basketball, volley ball, and hockey. In these contests, the contestants must be physically and mentally alert. There must be a sense of co-operation, of sportsmanship, of loyalty, of courage, of endurance, and a great enjoyment in the contact with one's fellow-beings. The girls are now having the chance to develop these admirable qualities.

The girls' gym classes meet every day ,each girl reporting to class twice a week. The classes are organized into squads, each squad leader being responsible for the conduct of the girls in her group. Basketball teams have also been organized, and several interclass games have been played. Tumbling, setting-up exercises, and folk dancing are a few of the features enjoyed by the girls under the able direction of Miss Helen Keely, the gym instructor for the girls.

We hope that the girls will continue to have the opportunity to participate in physical education and to enjoy the work as much as we have this year.

---Dorothy Gabel, '26.

Physical Education For Boys

WHAT could be a more splendid gift of the citizens to the community than the provision of an opportunity for physical, social, and moral development of its future citizens? The citizens and the city administration have long realized that such a gift reflects the highest duty to its youth and have given to its future citizenry the splendid Fond du Lac High School Gymnasium where it is now possible for all boys to receive athletic instruction twice a week. These instructions help to develop the student socially and morally as well as physically.

As aids to accomplish these ends we have---mechanical equipment to develop physical strength, skill, coordination, and cooperation of the group. This equipment includes jumping standards, climbing poles, ropes, hurdles, shot, javelin, discs, vaulting poles, basketballs, volley balls, baseballs, bats, tumbling and apparatus mats, and vaulting boxes.

We have a program of highly organized games which develop the team spirit, fairplay, and sportsmanship and which teach subordination of selfish desires for the moral development.

We have well ventilated rooms and individual lockers in which is kept our gymnasium clothing. We are able to experience twice weekly that exhilarating feeling, which comes from warm and cold shower baths.

We all get an opportunity to learn something of the many forms of athletic activities and at times are tested as to our individual physical abilities. These tests reveal our weaknesses and help to decide what training is best to strengthen us. The physical training has greatly improved the physical conditions of the Fond du Lac High. This year the training was more of an experiment but next year Fond du Lac High students will have a well organized physical education program which will be enjoyed by all.

Seniors Annex Track Victory

THE seniors won the inter-class track meet for the high schools students at the county fair grounds on May 1, scoring 47½ points. The sophomores were second with 33, and the juniors were third with 28. Another inter-class meet was held at the same place on May 8, and the seniors won as before. These meets were carried on by Coach Fruth primarily to find material for the track team that represented the school at Appleton on May 15.

Despite inadequate track facilities and other difficulties, several excellent prformances were turned out in the runs:

The results of the May 1 meet were:

100-yard dash—Carlton Margraff, senior, first; Louis Hansen, junior, second; Ralph Kraut, senior, third.

880-yard run—Edward O'Brien, senior, first; Howard Folsom, senior, second; Harry Lange, junior, third.

440-yard dash—Leo Giebel, sophomore, first; Marlin Allen, sophomore, second, Waldo Favreau, senior, third.

220-yard dash—Leo Giebel, sophomore, first; Louis Hansen, junior, second; Harry Lange, junior, third.

880-yard relay—Juniors, first; Seniors, second; Sophomores, third.

Mile run—Edward O'Brien, senior, first; Henry Ottery, sophomore, second; Clyde Musolf, sophomore, third.

Shot put—Elmer Schmidt, sophomore, first; Melvin Roehrdanz, senior, second; Marshall Wilson, sophomore, third; George McMillan, senior, third.

Pole vault—Wilbur Chase, junior, first; Waldo Favreau, senior, second; Melvin Roehrdanz, senior, third.

High jump—Franklin Winters, juniors, first; Harold Michler, junior, second; Wilbur Chase, junior, second; Vincent Musolf, senior, third; Clyde Musolf, sophomore, third; Henry Ottery, sophomore, third.

Javelin—Howard Folsom, senior, first; Charles Zynda, sophomore, second; Leander Freund, senior, third.

Broad jump—Lloyd Allan, senior, first; Sydney Burmaster, sophomore, second; Melvin Roehrdanz, senior, third.

220-yard burdles—Waldo Favreau, senior, first; George Davis, sophomore, second; Alvin Lang, senior, third.

The Valley Conference Track Meet

THIS year for the first time in twenty years, Fond du Lac has been able to enter men in the Valley Conference Track Meet held at Appleton Although this was the first appearance of the Fondy track men, they made a good showing. The team won sixth place ,a wonderful achievement considering lack of facilities and inexperience.

Fond du Lac had fourteen men entered in the contest and won six points. The school was represented in each event except the high hurdles. Fondy track men came close to scoring in the 100 yard dash and 880 yard run, although the team was not used to a cinder track. L. Giebel did get third in the 440 yard run and C. Margraf came second in the fastest 100 yard dash heat. E. O'Brien led in the 880 yard run most of the way but gave out in the end. Hill also ran a good heat in the 220 yard dash. The relay, a very spectacular event, was won by Fond du Lac track men, for which they received a banner which will be kept by Fondy. The team was composed of Giebel, Hansen, Hill, and Margraf.

West Green Bay won first place; Manitowoc, second; Oshkosh, third; East Green Bay, fourth; Sheboygan, fifth; Fond du Lac, sixth. Appleton and Marinette were sixth, each winning two points. The state high-jump record was broken by a jump of 5-10½. The javelin throw of 162 feet was excellent in a high-school event.

DIFFICULT TRAFFIC PROBLEMS CONFRONT STUDENTS & FACULTY

Congestion in Halls and on Stairways Becoming Serious

No metropolis has ever had to deal with a more difficult traffic problem than that which Fond du Lac High School has to. The trouble is greater this last semester, it would appear, because of the fact that so many new sophomores enrolled in the school. If these people would lay aside their infantile habits and remember that they are now members of a supposedly very dignified school, the congestion would be eliminated. As it is ,these youngsters scramble down the hall pell-mell as if there were no others to be considered. On the stairs, especially, does one encounter the great danger of breaking his neck. People going up try to push those coming down back up and vice versa until the condition has become too serious to be sniffed at.

Several remedies have been suggested, one of which is that part of the traffic in the halls might be relieved if an airplane service were established. As well as helping traffic conditions, this system would help students to reach their classes on time because of the great speed of the planes. or those using the surface it might be a wise idea to ride velocipedes, tricipedes, or bicycles and thus do away with the terrible male in the course of a few seconds.

To relieve the pushing at the stairs it would be a good plan to have up and down escattors; then there would be no lives lost in the scramble. Another thing would be to install Up and Down signs at the tops of the stairs similar to the Stop and Go signs on our main thorofare. The disadvantage of these, however, is that some people are unable to read.

Whether we remedy the condition one way or another, there should be no delay, for if we put it off, who knows how many persons may be maimed or killed for life?

FAMOUS SPEAKER DELIGHT AUDIENCE

Professor Codfish Lectures

A large audience composed of, for the most part, students, heard Professor Codfish in the Roosevelt auditorium, Thursday evening, February 11. His speech was the first of a series of lectures dealing with subjects closest to the hearts of the student body, such as "The Shortage of Chewing Gum is Europe and the United States," and "Social and Economic Conditions in Luco and Rosendale." His first lecture was very deep, profound and intricate, as a result of a request by those who attended.

It was evident that Professor Codfish held his audience spellbound in his interpretation of some of the world's deepest problems, his influence and magnetism being so intense as to cause four students, Stanley Watson, John Treleven, Emmanuel Lindner, and Jimmy Sorenson to walk out because their turbulent emotions were so great they coud not keep them in check, and were, as a result, graciously permitted by Professor Codfish to either leave or get out.

The demand for tickets to these lectures has been more than gratifying. A few students have quarreled bitterly over a ticket, which, because of the shortage, each wished to purchase. Many of them, also, tho they do not take the history that makes the hearing of these lectures compulsory, have tearfully requested their respective teachers to allow them to go, nevertheless, and discuss and take examinations on them in class.

It is very evident that we need not fear for any cultural lack in the minds of our high school students.

Mrs. Decker: What is a polygon?

Helen Kremer: A dead parrot.

Miss Wade (assigning topics): I'll give each of you a man for tomorrow.

STUDENTS RECEIVE HEAVY SENTENCE FOR SKIPPING SCHOOL

Act Is Discovered Shortly After Its Perpetration

Three Fond du Lac School students, names withheld on request, were discovered skipping school by the office authorities early yesterday afternoon. Suspicion was aroused when their absence from school was discovered, because all three of them are intimite friends, and are in each other's company a great deal.

It is known that the following morning they arrived at school, and were unmolested during the morning. The afternoon, however, brought forth different developments. They were called, figuratively speaking, to the Court of Judgment, and were allowed to state their case, and all pleaded guilty. The Judge delivered a stiff lecture, and levied on them a severe sentence, to wit: that they go not to afternoon classes for an indefinite period, thus losing three points on each day lost. A clause was mercifully added to this that said: Above sentence to be modified on good behavior of the prisoners.

The authorities hope that this case will discourage all those who would follow the example of these unfortunate three. It is evident that some such measure was essential in order to quench this unseemly desire for absence from classes, and it is just as evident that the daring victims of this discipline are regretting their untimely and dangerous act.

NEWS BRIEF

Inquiries are come in to us pertaining to the absence of Olive Smith, Jean Tennant, and Monica Baker from their afternoon classes. Many theories have been advanced as to this absence, and a few astute persons have attached it to the news contained in the preceding article.

INFLUX OF PHOTOS INTO SCHOOL MAKES TEACHERS DIZZY

Many Beautiful Pictures Confiscated By Relentless Pedagogs

Ever since the word Life was mentioned, and pictures were being taken, the school has been flooded with some flattering and some not so flattering likenesses of our honored seniors. Many sleepless nights were known to have been spent by various members of the faculty in order to exterminate the nerve-racking epidemic. A very simple method was devised by some brilliant teacher; that is, he merely took possession of any photo which came into sight. Many were the tears shed by members of the fair sex when pictures of their best beaus were taken from them. That, however, was not fair for; what sweet young thing could resist the temptation of gazing at her beloved whenever the opportunity afforded?

In all the corridors and in all the classrooms were heard, "Oh, isn't it perfectly ado-o-o-rable? Isn't she just darling?" After the subject of the picture's back was turned, there was a different story heard.

"Did you ever see anything so flattering in your life? Why, she isn't half so good-looking as that!"

For weeks the harassed photographers were hounded by impatient people who, when they saw their respective proofs, gave a shriek of dismay and put the blame on these good men. Many photographers were tempted to go out of business after having been scolded and bothered by a few hundred impatient seniors. Most of the men are back at work now after a few weeks rest at a sanatorium.

The fever has calmed down to a great degree, but there are still a few maniacs to be seen here and there exchanging pictures of their maps.

Miss Finley: Which of Holmes' poems do you like best, Isabel?

Isabel Timm: I like The Boys.

FOR THOSE WHO ASPIRE TO BEAUTY & HEALTH

Conducted by Nota Blemish

Dear Miss Blemish:

What can I do to make curly hair straight? I have tried everything from bear's grease to lard but to no avail.

Kurly Oberreich.

Dear Kurly:

Don't give up. Here's one good method—Soak the hair well in Two in One Oil and immediately place a helmet weighing about fifty lbs. on your head. Leave it on for twenty-four hours. The results are astonishing!

My dear Miss Blemish:

My friends tell me that I have grown disgustingly stout. Because of my enormous appetite, I find it impossible to get thin Please advise me as to whether there is not some easier method than by dieting.

Corpulence Bannon.

Dear Corpulence:

Follow my rules and you'll soon be a sylph. If you must eat, eat pickles. They serve two purposes —one as a filler; the other as a reducer. You will find in less than ten years time that you will have lost about twelve and one-half ounces.

Dear Miss Blemish:

How can I become an athlete? When other girls play basketball or volley ball, I just sit around and watch. I love to play those games but they are far too strenuous for one of my weak condition.

Anemia E. Halverson.

My dear Anemia:

To think that you have starved yourself of these delightful pleasures out of pure ignorance. What you need is iron in unlimited quantities. The cheapest way of obtaining it is by eating any scraps of iron that may be lying around or perhaps your gym teacher will allow you to chew on some of the iron dumbells. Wire me as soon as you get results.

Dear Miss Blemish:

Because of my extremely short height, I am the laughing stock of the town, and I should like to grow a few feet if possible. Is there any chance of growing at the age of twenty-one?

Shrimp Nick Abler.

Dear Shrimp:

Don't think for a minute that you haven't a chance to grow taller. Why, you're a mere infant and have plenty of time to be a big man. Just keep away from Lady Nicotine and drink plenty of milk. That'll do the stuff, you see if it doesn't.

COUNSEL TO BLEEDING HEARTS

By Ima Healer

Dear Miss Healer:

I am hopelessly in love with a young lady who pays very little attention to me. I would do anything in the world for her if she would only let me. She is a beautiful girl and has an appetizing name—Olive! ! I'm so unhappy.

Lonesome Leo.

Lonesome:

Don't be down-hearted; life is too short. From your description I take it she doesn't crave your attentions. Take my advice and try ignoring her and just see if she doesn't come stepping around. She likes you Leo, but she adores indifference.

Dear Ima:

I am in love, in love with a man who is hardly aware of my existence. I danced with him one time, but even my marvelous vocabulary and interesting line failed to interest. I am very good looking so I don't know why he doesn't notice me.

Bewildered Tootie Nass.

Bewildered dear:

Take your mind off this silly man. If he doesn't appreciate your vocabulary and your beauty, I am sure that he is not worthy of all this worry and love. Forget it! !

Dear Miss Healer:

Although I am only a sophomore in high school, I act very old for my age. I am engaged to a freshman named Harvey who wants to be married in June. It seems to me that he should finish school first, but he will not listen to anything I say. What can I do to put off the marriage without his being angry?

Undecided Betty.

Dearest Undecided:

Better marry the young man and avoid getting the air. What difference does it make if he still is in school. You can quit school and work or live off your families. By all means get married. There's nothing like it for getting caught up.

Dearest Miss Healer:

I am just sick because none of the girls will go out with me. All the shebas say I treat 'em too rough, but I don't seem to realize what a cave man I am. I should gladly be gentle and considerate if I knew how. Please tell me a way, for I'm tired of hanging around Fond du Lac while other fellows are stepping.

Well meaning John Henry.

Dear Well Meaning:

I don't wonder that girls refuse to go with you. Who wants to be treated like a punching bag when there are so many others at hand who are very chivalrous. Watch other men for a while and see if you can't take a few tips from them. Send me a stamped envelope, and I'll give you all the dope in detail.

Dear Ima:

There is a young man whom I adore, and who, I know, likes me very much also. He seems to be too bashful to speak to me or to phone me. How can I help him overcome his timidity? He is a handsome auburn haired fellow.

Adoring Sophie.

Sophie dear:

I think your beloved is unaware of the fact that you like him and for that reason, he is distant. Show him you like him by following him around. A shrinking violet gets nowhere these days so you must'nt be one. Take an interest in his lessons and prepare his assignments now and then.

School Calendar

SEPTEMBER

14—School commences—At last we have the longed (?) for opportunity of going to school all day.

26—Football game. Ripon 0; Fond du Lac 13. Good start! It's plain to be seen that Bake has been driving his men tooth and nail.

OCTOBER

3—Football game. Manitowoc vs. Fond du Lac wins 20-0—Is zat nice to be copping off all the honors—we ask you—but, see if we care! ! !

10—Football game with Wayland Academy at Beaver Dam. Fond du Lac wins 7-0. Wayland certainly was at a disadvantage. They seldom get the chance to see girls and such keen mammas at that.

20—Senior Class Meeting. Ray Breitung president. President Ray duly resumes his former duties. What would we do without his guiding influence? ?

29—Mortar Board Hard Time Party—no place for all our new togs.

30—First Mass meeting—All voices tested out thoroughly—improvement possible, however.

Millinery Exhibit—Latest Parisian models on display to say nothing of the delightful refreshments served by the cooking classes.

31—Fondy-Oshkosh Football game 7-6. Guess we won't let Oshkosh beat us.

NOVEMBER

4—U. S. Marine Band plays in new gym. So many sheiks!

7—Sheboygan beats Fondy 12-0. Skidded around in the mud. Forgot our chains. Sheboygan had theirs.

9—Junior Class Meeting. Election of officers. Change for the better? Slightly intelligent officers?

12—Life Dedicated to Mr. Sizer—After all these years, we appreciate you, Mr. Sizer.

13—Mixer held in gym. Help! ! Some mixture.

14—Football game—West Green Bay triumphs over Fondy 26-0. Some mistake somewhere. Don't you think?

20—Editor of Life is chosen. Ray Breitung. Quite the popular boy. Eh wot?

21—Gym classes begin. What aches we all had!

27-28—Delegates sent to C. I. P. A. meeting at Madison—Jeanne attended and got back safely. Weren't you afraid to run around in that dreadful wicked town?

29—Howard Folsom elected president of Wisconsin Older Boys—In all history Fond du Lac has never witnessed such an influx of sheiks—some good; some not so good.

DECEMBER

2—Opening of Cafeteria—Not more than a dozen trays were tipped at the dangerous corner. Everyone commented on the speed (?) of the hash slingers.

3—Meeting of the sophomore class. Claude Musolf president. We're glad you didn't disappoint us becuz 'twould never do if the sophomores did such a thing.

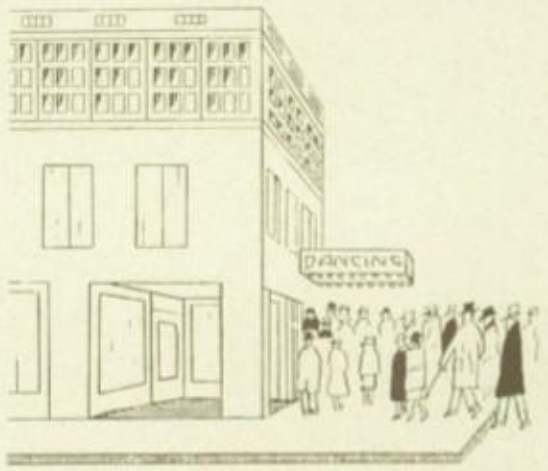
4—Mixer held in gymnasium—Paul Whiteman's orchestra engaged and was it ever hot? ? Parents kicking ever since about shoe repair bills.

18—Basketball-Fond du Lac defeats Ripon. All star team starts out by beating the collegians.

19—Classical Club Saturnalia—the guests had 'nawful time. Such a mob they could scarce move. Too bad the gym was built so small.

22—Mortar Board Kid party—Oh you little dears! More darn fun riding kiddie cars and squalling.

23—Christmas vacation—We were gypped of several days 'tis true, but we certainly made use of our short vacation. German Club party. Das Goimans ein rot heis time gehabt.



26—Opening of the Roof. At last we can dance!

28—Annual Basketball Alumni Game Fondy wins 18-11. Some team! Put up a bold front and had the audacity to trim the champions of '24.

JANUARY

7—First lecture by Dr. Fish. Oh perfessor, where vas your famous red vest? 'Twas a great disappointment to the audience that you didn't sport the scarlet article of clothing.

8—Fondy loses to Sheboygan 20-15. This is just a start. Wait'll we get commenced.

9—Spanish and French Clubs sleighride party. The si, sis and the aui, auis must have been a bit tangled. In spite of the fact, we had a darling time.

15—Pep meeting—Players impersonated by Mortar Board Girls—Now Boys—aren't you glad you know how you look?

22—Meeting of Senior Class—Motto chosen "Charatcer is all"—also coral and Nile green for colors. Going back to Egypt for our ideas, eh wot?

20—Fondy beats Oshkosh 29-12. Here's just an instance where solid stuff excels sawdust.

23—Fondy triumphs over Marinette in a 12-28 victory. Aren't we the lucky crowd?

25—Departure of Miss Fullwood, our librarian—oh! how we do miss being sent back to our respective study halls.

28-29—No school—mid semester.—The North Pole has nothing on us when it comes to cold weather—Oh boy! This was one time when cars (Fords included) refused to start. Mid year graduation.

29—Senior Mixer—Quite the party ,ice-cream, cake, 'n dancing—Everybody enjoyed himself.

29—Appleton defeats Fondy 13-11 not so good Fondy—but we can't take all the cake, can we?

FEBRUARY

5—Fondy loses to Neenah 18-15. I guess we were glad this wasn't a conference game.

8—High school dedicated—I'm sure we can study ever so much better now.

11—Helen Husting winner in Peptimist Contest, School creed. Who but a lawyer's daughter could compose a winning creed? You can be serious as well as humorous, can't you ,Helen?

11—Dr. Fish disciplines our bad boys. We were properly squelched and quite surprised at the fact that so famous a man addressed us personally.

12—Fondy defeats W. Green Bay 15-14. Some fight but we made it.

13—Junior Class Party—Leave it to the Juniors to have a good time.

15—Fondy beats East Green Bay 30-12. We'll win the Conference title if we have to break our necks, won't we?

19—Fondy wins from Oshkosh 9-8. Quite a scare—but oh no Oshkosh you can't beat Fondy in basketball.

20—Oshkosh Fondy game—Don'cha care Oshkosh—You didn't care cuz you know we most allus beat u anyway.

22—Many students take a holiday in commemoration of George. Some people are conveniently patriotic.

19—Mass meeting. They certainly were the coy lil' creatures—How the boys did burn for 'em before they got wise to the disguise.

29—Fond du Lac defeats Appleton High—19-10. Better and better!! No chance to crack wise about our team—No sirree!

MARCH

4—Oshkosh tournament. Opens with a flourish. It does seem a ditry trick to fool Oshkosh every time. Wonder why they love us so?

5—Fondy defeats Berlin. Bet we win the trophy, how 'bout jew?

6—Fondy beats Neenah in title game—16-13. Right we did!! Perfectly beau-u-u-tiful trophy, wot say?

10—Pep meeting. Inter class games. The crowd grew hoarse—no goofin! We was so thrilled for our team.

17—Mock debate by De Oratoribus girls—Verdict—Balloons will always be the last word. We'll see about that. Spect the boys will next argue about the lnegth of skoits.

18—Hindu lecture—What if we got married at the ages those young 'uns do? Wouldn't it be hot to call one another Mr. and Mrs.?

19—Fondy debaters lose to Oshkosh and Sheboygan. The debaters here were rendered tongue tied by the huge crowd of 40 or so who came to stick up for 'em.

23—Dramatic Club plays. 'Twas really great talent displayed. John Lemieux we ast you—what kind of mustache raiser did you use?

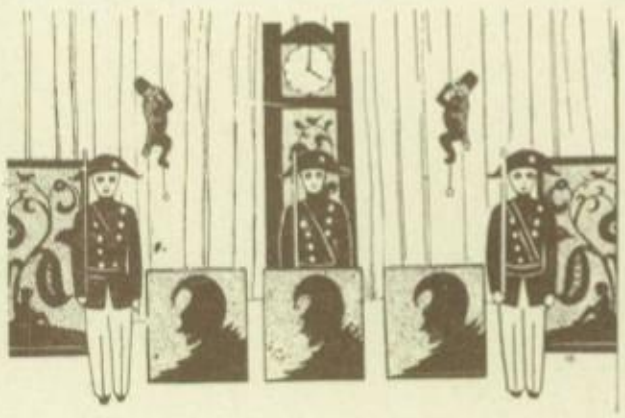
24—Superior defeats Fondy in State meet.—How did our boys know what a bunch of giants they were going up against? These lumber jacks sure are the husky boids.

25—LaCrosse defeats Fondy—Who said we wanted third place ennyway?

26—Annual Band Concert.—We guess Joe was proud of his protegess, ain't it?

31—Spring vacation begins. Spring in name only—zero weather—Bad for Easter bonnets.

APRIL



6—School resumed. Last lap for the Seniors. We hope none of them weakened.

16-17—Operetta at Rosevelt, at last. Many budding Galli-Gurcis and Shuman Heinks were uncovered. Fond du Lac may become famous yet. Who knows?

22—Senior Banquet at Retlaw. And how we worried about having it in the cafeteria! We sure had a swell time.

28—"Clarence" by Roosevelt teachers. How the tickets did sell when we heard the cast included our Mr. Hoff!

MAY

1—Interclass Track Meet. Of course the greedy Seniors had to take all the honors.

14-15—Band Tournament at Green Bay. Our band's gettin' better all the time.

29—De Oratoribus Tea at School Cafeteria. As long as they stick to tea, everything will be all right.

15—Fondy wins Relay at Appleton Conference Track Meet. We weren't so good, but we did win something.

18—Fondy beats Wayland 7 to 5. I guess we can play baseball!

JUNE

4—Class Play at Roosevelt—A Pair of Sixes. Wasn't Sue darling? Helen surely is some actress!

5—Mortar Board Dinner at Cafeteria. Only members of the bricklayers' union admitted this year.

6—Baccalaureate.
Wonderful stuff we heard. Can we live up to it?

8—Classical Club Picnic.
How a classical club can picnic! Seein' is believen'.

10—Virgil Banquet
Weren't Cicero and Caesar also there?

11—Commencement at last.
Now for the weepiest time a' the year—
